No GC City Sales Tax Boost for August

Council Could Start
Quarter-Cent Increase
In Any Month Later

An ordinance fixing the local share of sales tax collections at three quarters of a cent on each dollar of retail sales in Granite City, permitted under new Illinois sales tax legislation, was defeated by the city council Monday night. Under current laws, the city receives one-half of 1% on retail sales.

As a result, the city will lose the extra one-quarter of 1% on sales during August, amounting to approximately $12,000, even if the council reconsiders and passes the ordinance. It will not get the estimated $12,000 for each month that it delays passage of a new bill.

The surprise action on what has been a routine procedure in other cities to increase the city sales tax from a half-cent to three-quarters cent could not be explained, even by some of the aldermen who voted against it.

The vote came during presentation of ordinances by Alderman Walter Nann in Monday night's regular council session and following extensive discussion of the city's new budget.

Some aldermen predicted the new sales tax ordinance will be reconsidered in an adjourned meeting Saturday morning. But under terms of state legislation the increased tax could not now become effective Aug. 1 for collections during August.

Reject Service Tax
Council members also rejected an ordinance to establish a three-quarters of 1% service occupation tax, also permitted under state laws.

Defeat of this ordinance was anticipated, however, since the city has opposed the service tax in the past and never has collected the half-cent allowable under the current law.

New state laws on the city sales tax and service tax become effective Aug. 1, subject to local-level ratification.

City Attorney Richard Allen said rejection of the ordinance boosting the sales tax does not nullify the half-cent collection authorized under existing ordinances.

An ordinance authorizing the additional quarter-cent for the three-quarter cent total tax can be passed in any month, he said.

10-Day Advance Notice
Samuel Keyes, assistant director of the Illinois Department of Revenue at Springfield, told the Press-Record that to take advantage of the increased tax, communities and counties may pass an enabling ordinance in any given month, but the ordinance must be passed at least ten days before the end of the month to become effective on the first day of the following month.

Since Saturday's meeting date, July 22, is only nine days prior to the end of month, an ordinance enacting the additional quarter-cent tax at that time could not become effective on Aug. 1.

The half-cent tax brings the city about $24,000 a month.

Reserve Official Parking
The council did pass an ordinance to remove parking meters from curbs along the city hall to provide parking reserved for the city clerk and city treasurer, as well as other city officials.

Aldermen Still Unable to Agree On Year's Budget

A prepared budget ordinance setting up expenditures totaling $2,185,573 for the 1967-68 fiscal year was turned down by the Granite City council Monday night as the climax of a heated argument over the addition of special improvement items.

Three separate attempts were made to advance the budget measure to passage stage. All three were defeated.

The final appropriation figure was determined on the basis of council discussions in a special meeting last Saturday. The total included all departmental appropriations except estimated costs for special city improvements.

The total is $147,419 less than last year's budget of $2,340,148, and is $181,800 less than the original tentative figure of $2,347,404 considered for the new appropriation at the beginning of budget discussions more than a month ago.

The budget ordinance was introduced by Alderman Walter Nann, chairman of the council's Ordinance Committee. He spoke against extending the budget to beyond the figures contained in the ordinance.

Special Improvements
At this point, Alderman Ford Johnson proposed a list of special city improvements totaling $76,500. Johnson listed eight separate projects, largest of which was a proposed curb and guttering job on Waterman avenue from Wabash to Maryville road costing $21,000.

Edmund Edmund Bartosik moved to increase the figure by another $17,000, calling for the resurfacing of Washington avenue from 24th to 27th street because of heavy truck traffic.

Both the special project list and the Washington avenue proposal brought opposition from Nann, who said that the council had "better get realistic and live with this budget as it is."

Nann added that "we're not a city that has a penny to spare for anything because we've figured every bit of prospective revenue into this budget the way it is."

Using Every Penny
Alderman Sam Whit told the council that "even our sales tax income for the year is figured to have a penny left over. We want to spend every penny we are going to get. Why not hold back these special jobs until next year and leave something in the treasury to cushion us in case of an emergency?"

Finance Committee Chairman Paul Rutledge said some of the streets "really need to be worked over," but he contended that "we are taking the money out of the pockets of taxpayers who in some instances paid for their own curb and guttering, and using that money for similar projects in other parts of the city."

First Ward Alderman Charles Moerlen remarked that his ward is, so far as proposed special improvements were concerned, "getting the short end of it."

Bartosik's motion to include the Washington avenue project must be passed at least ten days before the end of the month to become effective on the first day of the following month.

Since Saturday's meeting date, July 22, is only nine days prior to the end of month, an ordinance enacting the additional quarter-cent tax at that time could not become effective on Aug. 1.

The half-cent tax brings the city about $24,000 a month.

Pay Hikes For School Employees In Madison

Action on Salaries of Teachers Awaits State
Aid Formula Decision

Fifteen-cent hourly wage increases were approved for custodians and cafeteria personnel in the Madison school district and salaries of clerks and secretaries were raised $100 to $400 per year at a school board meeting Tuesday night.

The custodians' contract will take two years, and the cafeteria employees' contract will be $3.15 for the 1967-68 school year and $3.30 for the following year.

Head cooks will receive $280 annually or $131.50 bi-weekly, and assistant cooks will earn $250 annually or $117.50 bi-weekly. The substitute cooks' pay will be $1.40 per hour.

In addition, salaries of two attendance officers were set at $4500 and $5000 per year.

A 10-year salary schedule calls for pay for 10-month clerks ranging from $2600 to $3600 per year, for 12-month clerks from $3120 to $4200 and 12-month secretaries from $3600 to $4800.

Additional $100 is provided on top of the maximum figures for each five full years of service beyond 10 years.

Teachers Contract
Raymond Draglich, superintendent of schools, said contract offers to teachers are still pending the outcome of a $400 foundation level bill passed by the state legislature. It is awaiting the signature of Gov. Kerner.

He said action may be taken at the August board meeting. Resignations were accepted from Joseph Naglich, Madison high school teacher, who accepted a position with the Illinois Education Association as a field representative, and from Mrs. Lorraine Horton, clerk at Blair school, who accepted a job with the U. S. government.

Hire Teachers
Among teachers hired were Miss Joyce Allen as a third grade teacher at Harris school; she has taught one year in Springfield. Her sister, Miss Linda Allen, will be a fourth grade teacher at Louis Baer school. They are from Anna and both are graduates of Southern Illinois University.

Other teachers hired are Miss Yvonne Alexander of St. Louis, an SIU graduate, as speech therapist at Blair and Dunbar schools; Mrs. Barry Jo Harris of Chicago, an SIU graduate, as second grade teacher at Harris school; Melvin W. Reiser of Pinckneyville, who was a substitute teacher at MHS; Mrs. Mary Mick of Granite City, an adult substitute, as third grade teacher at Harris school; and Herbert Mullins of East St. Louis, an SIU graduate, as seventh grade teacher at Dunbar school.

Custodians Retire
Retirements were approved for Clifford Barr, custodian at Harris school, effective July 28, and Roy Smothers, custodian at Madison high school, effective Aug. 23.

Hired to replace them were Edward Leleniewski at MHS, effective July 31, and Robert Jones at Madison junior high school, effective Aug. 16.

Transfers were approved for Joseph Sprajcar, custodian at MHS; Audrey Davidson, 1432 Sixth street, Madison; Estella Smith, Glen Carbon; Marion Wyatt, 2310 State street; and Mae King, 808 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Injury Toll Hits 21 in 17 Traffic Accidents

Six Multiple-Injury
Crashes Occur in Quad-
City Area This Week

The Quad-City injury toll since Monday mounted to 21 today, exceeding the number of all accidents reported in the area for the three-day period. Those treated in hospitals were hurt in 11 of an overall total of 17 traffic mishaps.

Michael Lumetta, 21, St. Louis, suffered severe lacerations about the face and head and an injury to his right arm at 2:35 a.m. today when his car jumped the curb on the curve from Broadway into Main street in Venice and crashed into a frame building.

He was treated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and was transferred to DePaul Hospital, 3101 Main street. His car hit a building at 909 Main street owned by Leo Devaney and did considerable damage to the front of the structure.

Two Hurt in Madison
Two persons were injured in a two-car collision at Fourth street and McCambridge avenue in Madison at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Cars driven by Harry B. Parker, 4126 Braden avenue, headed east on Fourth street and crossing McCambridge, and Veda Bolin, 2032 McCasland avenue, Madison, east on Fourth and turning left into McCambridge, collided.

Mrs. Dorothy Parker, 25, of the Braden address was treated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital for a left leg injury and released. Fred Becker, 1637 Sixth street, suffered minor injuries in the crash.

Cleo F. Kruckeberg, 44, Edwardsville farmer, and his son Robert, 17, suffered minor cuts and bruises about 7 a.m. yesterday.

Hospital Scooter Theft is Among 19 Quad-City Crimes

Alertness by St. Elizabeth's Hospital employees was credited with the arrest of two persons who had just stolen one of the hospital's electric scooters at about midnight today.

One was a former employee who had just been fired. They were seen leaving with the scooter by emergency room personnel in a 1959 green and white station wagon and were stopped at the McKinley Bridge by Venice and Madison police, who had posted patrol cars there after receiving a bulletin from Granite City police.

Charged with theft of more than $150 were Clara Lincoln, 37, and Gerald Chapman, 26, both of St. Louis. The scooter was in the station wagon.

A hospital spokesman said that the woman, who had worked in the x-ray department, was discharged for absenteeism, neglect of duty and other reasons.

There were reports that stolen merchandise, including television sets and diamond rings, were being offered for sale to hospital employees.

The woman had some rings in her possession and was to be questioned about them by detectives today.

The hospital has been particularly security conscious for more than a year and has been working closely with police authorities.

Police officials have given special talks before hospital supervisors, and hospital employees have become security minded.

County to Remodel
Old Edwardsville
Postal Building

The Madison County Board of Supervisors yesterday awarded contracts totaling $14,000 to remodel the old Edwardsville post office to provide more office space for the county government.

His bids were approved on a 25 to 20 vote after a heated argument on the authority of county officials to purchase the old building.

Robert Miller, assistant supervisor from Alton, claimed that the county board had merely authorized employment of an architect to determine the feasibility of converting the old building to serve county government purposes.

He said no authority was given by the board at either December or February meetings to purchase the structure for $74,000 from Arnold and Alvin Carsons of Edwardsville.

Milton Allen of Granite City and other board members agreed that the county was not liable for the $74,000 purchase price.

$225,000 Cost
The board, however, stipulated that the overall cost should not exceed $225,000. Arrangements were made with two Edwardsville banks to borrow the money over a 10-year period with interest not to exceed 10%.

Attempting to forestall prolonged debate, Board Chairman Harold Landolt, commenting on insufficient facilities at the county courthouse, said, "Everyone's trying to crowd everyone else out and we're screaming for space. Now we have the mechanics worked out for more space."

Miller agreed that the space was needed but objected to the purchase of additional "white elephants" which will require high annual maintenance costs.

He suggested the possibility of constructing new buildings.

Heart of Ordinance
Scroggins had objected that the action not only was unconstitutional but completely threw out the rules and procedural network that has been built up in the landfill ordinance.

"The resolution takes the heart out of landfill ordinance."

A later amendment to limit landfill sites only to those zoned M-3 heavy manufacturing districts failed following strong objections by Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter Sparks.

He asserted that only three townships Chouteau, Namek and Wood River have M-3 districts and said those townships would become the dumping ground for the county.

The amendment lost by only two votes on a third roll call, after the first two roll calls ended in 20-20 ties. Chairman Harold Landolt refused to cast a deciding vote after the first two attempts.

End to Landfills?
Jack Clifford, zoning and landfill administrator, called the new ordinance a "landfill ban" and said it would end the M-3 districts in Madison county.

Under the amendment which lost, a landfill could have been located anywhere obtaining a permit from the county board's sanitation committee.

He is a member of the American Management Association, the Corn Industries Research Foundation, the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities and the American Society of Chemical Engineers.

Hunter will move from Columbus, Ind., to the Quad-City area. He and his family presently live at 314 Harlock drive, Columbia.

The Miles Laboratory announcement was made at its Elkhart, Ind., offices.

Musso Urges Merit System for Deputies

Madison county Sheriff George Musso is urging adoption of a merit system for his department and is planning to confer with the county board of supervisors and State's Atty. Leon Scroggins.

He said he wants to have the system in operation before his term expires in 1970. The sheriff is calling for college-trained persons interested in law enforcement as a career, and is seeking pay increases to attract capable personnel.

Gov. Kerner last year signed a bill permitting counties of 100,000 to 500,000 to incorporate the merit system to take the county law enforcement departments out of politics.

College-trained men could better understand and interpret current complicated laws, the sheriff said, adding that under the current system counties lose many qualified deputies through politics.

He noted that his predecessor, former Sheriff Barney Framdori, also had recommended a merit program.

City Comptroller-Treasurer Dispute Over Sewer Records

A dispute between the offices of the city treasurer and the city comptroller over maintenance of a second set of books for the city's sewer programs was brought into the open at Monday night's regular Granite City council meeting.

A lengthy argument included a charge by one alderman that city bookkeeping is being "fouled up" because the treasurer allegedly refused to cooperate with the comptroller.

The council did approve, however, a motion that an ordinance amendment be brought before the council requiring that daily sewer transaction records be provided by the treasurer.

City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich, in response to questions by the council, said that present city ordinances governing the city's sewer programs require a report every 30 days and place full responsibility for sewer fund collections, bookkeeping and other procedures upon the treasurer's office.

Would Be No Problem

Rich replied in response to another question that "it would be no problem" to provide the comptroller's office with daily records if the governing ordinances were amended to that effect.

The issue was placed before the council by Alderman Paul Rutledge, chairman of the council's finance committee, who charged that "the treasurer is not working toward the keeping of a dual set of books as requested by the council."

Rutledge told the aldermen that "this is creating a serious problem. Recently there was an error in the treasurer's report and it was found by the comptroller's office."

"The council requested that a dual set of books be kept, one by the treasurer and another by the comptroller. The treasurer isn't doing it and he says he won't do it," Rutledge then moved that the council order the elected treasurer to turn over daily records to the appointed comptroller, Robert Stevens.

Rich was asked by Alderman William Dallas for his "side of the story." Rich replied that "I am working under the corporate ordinances as they are now drawn up. That's all I can do."

Alderman Ford Johnson asked Rich if it would create any serious problem to provide the daily records.

"None at all," Rich replied, "if you just change the ordinance."

Rutledge said that "I asked Rich to talk to Allen (City Attorney Richard Allen) about this. I don't know whether he did or not, Allen seems to have a different approach on the matter. Meanwhile, our books are getting fouled up."

"According to the law, Rich is supposed to maintain dual books, but the way he is operating it is impossible for the comptroller to maintain a proper set of books," Allen held that it was unnecessary to change the ordinance or take any other council action in the matter. He said it is the comptroller's duties to get the records necessary to keeping his books and that "I am sure Rich is aware that the books are available to any member of the corporate authority, the mayor, the alderman or any other city official."

"It seems that when Stevens sees the books, he writes a report that Rich thinks he shouldn't."

Allen added that "a comptroller's duty is to keep a second set of books. Of course, he can't if the records are not available. It seems to me the records should be available."

In a roll call vote, the council rejected Rutledge's motion by 10 to 4, with two council members absent.

This brought a response from Mayor Donald Partney that "the council certainly hasn't helped tie

Two Cars Damaged

Cars driven by Robert Barker, Collinsville, and Ollie Walker, whose address was not reported to police, were damaged at 8:30 a.m. yesterday in a collision at Russell and Newfound streets in Venice. Barker was driving west on Bissell.

The situation any I get caught in the middle on this every day—the comptroller asking for the cash receipts."

Alderman Moerlen protested an effort to amend the ordinances by a floor vote in Monday night's meeting and, instead, moved that an amendment to the ordinances be brought before the council in a future meeting.

The motion resulted in a tie vote of 7 to 7, with Mayor Partney voting "yes" to break the tie.

USUALLY FIERCE POLICE DOG, Sir Kelly, is gentle with its new family, the Ronald Grzywacz's. He is the new canine corps patrolman for the Madison police department. Admiring the new pet are Ronnie Lee, five, Sherri Lee, six, Mrs. Valerie Grzywacz and the officer.

PRESS-RECORD CLASSIFIED ADS BRING RESULTS

Grzywacz Named Canine Patrolman in Madison

Ronald Grzywacz, a member of the Madison police department, has been appointed as canine patrolman and is in charge of the city police dog, Sir Kelly.

He was trained all handling procedure by Lt. Frank Duko, his predecessor, and fed the dog under a fence for a week and a half before the animal accepted him.

Training took place at Madison high school for two weeks under similar methods followed by Duko at a training school at Boone Terre, Mo.

Sir Kelly now is living with the Grzywacz family and is gentle with the wife and two children.

The dog is trained to attack at the site of a gun, knife or other weapon. Grzywacz's training included firing a gun over Sir Kelly's head while it was at the "set". The dog automatically attacks the gun if not accustomed to the person holding it.

Mailbox Overturned

John A. Scroggins, 1710 Fourth street, Madison, reported to Madison police at 6 p.m. Monday that the bed of his truck hooked a mailbox in front of the Madison post office, Sixth street and Madison avenue, and overturned the box.

SP/5 JOHN HAWKINS Wins Bronze Star

Now a Civilian Wins Bronze Star

A young Vietnam War veteran who returned to civilian life this year has just been notified that he has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for outstanding service while in action against hostile forces as a member of the famed "Big Red One" First Infantry Division.

John E. Hawkins, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawkins, 3117 Fehling road, now a student at Southern Illinois University's Southern campus, returned home from Vietnam in December 1966 after serving there for 11½ months.

He had volunteered for duty in the Vietnam theatre while stationed with U. S. forces for an eight-month period at Augsburg, Germany. As a combat infantryman, Hawkins was involved in numerous military operations during his Vietnam duty.

Hawkins enlisted in the Army in February 1964, midway in his junior year at the University of Illinois, Champaign, where he was majoring in mechanical engineering. He plans to enroll in Illinois in September and complete work toward a degree in engineering which he hopes to earn by next summer.

Signed by Maj. Gen. W. E. DePuy, commanding officer and Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Reiser, the citation accompanying the medal reads in part: "By direction of the President, the Bronze Star medal is presented to Specialist-five John E. Hawkins, Headquarters and Headquarters Co., 1st Infantry Division, for distinguishing himself by outstanding meritorious service in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam during the period January 1966 to November 1966."

"Through his untiring efforts and professional ability, he consistently obtained outstanding results. He was quick to grasp the implications of new problems with which he was faced as a result of the ever-changing situations inherent in a counterinsurgency operation and to find ways and means to solve those problems."

"The energetic application of his extensive knowledge has materially contributed to the efforts of the United States mission to the Republic of Vietnam to assist that country in ridding itself of the Communist threat to its freedom."

"Sp/5 Hawkins' initiative, zeal, sound judgment and devotion to duty have been in the highest tradition of the U. S. Army and reflect great credit on him and on the military service."

Obviously proud to be a recipient of the Bronze Star, he also is modest and chose to have the medal and citation sent to his home, rather than presented at an official ceremony.

Park Children's Theatre To Present 'Mary Poppins'

An opportunity to discover the fascinating world of the theatre is being offered this summer, for the second time, to approximately 45 local youngsters participating in a "Children's Theatre" program sponsored by the Granite City park district.

Members of the troupe, ranging in age from six to 16 years, have been in rehearsal for the past six weeks in preparation for the 1967 season's presentation of "Mary Poppins," a fantasy comedy.

The production may be viewed by the public at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the 27th street entrance to Wilson Park.

Director of the Children's Theatre program is Alex Urban, a teacher at Signal Hill Junior high school, Belleville, who commented today he is well pleased with the response by local youngsters to the project.

He pointed out that registration for the program was conducted six weeks ago, with rehearsals and instruction workshops since taking place during two-hour sessions three times each week.

Lead Role to Debbie Smith, a Granite City high school sophomore, has the lead role of "Mary Poppins" in Monday evening's production. She also is serving as assistant director and choreographer for the show.

Casting of the principal roles was carried out in early June, the director explained. "The youngsters displayed tremendous enthusiasm and memorized their parts within a week," he said.

He pointed out that registration for the program was conducted six weeks ago, with rehearsals and instruction workshops since taking place during two-hour sessions three times each week.

Urban also directed "Children's Theatre" productions in Belleville, dividing his time between the two projects. Final rehearsals are being held from 1 to 2 p.m. daily this week, with a dress rehearsal scheduled for Sunday.

Richard Ervay, president of the Anand Temple unit of the International Association of Shrine Provests, was elected chief provost of the international association at the Shrine imperial session last week in Washington, D. C.

It is the highest office in the association and carries the rank of colonel.

Ervay, who resides at 3706 Johnson road, operates the Dog N' Suds restaurant.

Members of the Anand unit who attended the convention with Ervay were Donald Adams, Warren Decatur and Thomas Burns. The association has members from the U. S., Mexico and Canada.

Boat Registration Fee Is Increased

Boat registration fees have been increased by action of the General Assembly, William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, reported today.

The former $3-for-three-years fee is now $4 for two years. All certificates of number issued after the effective date of the new Boating Code will expire on June 30, two years hence. Certificates now valid will continue in effect until the expiration date shown on the certificate.

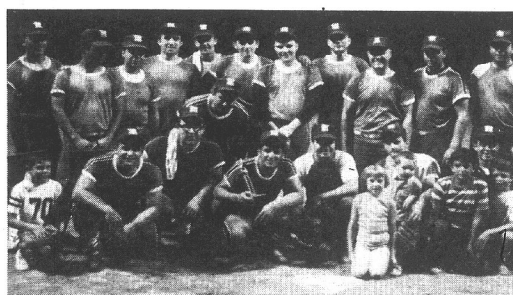

All sailboats over 12 feet long must be registered and numbered, according to the provisions of the Illinois Boat Registration and Safety Act. The fee for registering a sailboat is the same as for a power boat, $4 for two years.

Heavy Hitting In 16-2 Victory By Local 16

Local 16 strengthened its lead in the 35 & Over League on Monday night as it demolished the Coachlights 16-2, while last-place Midtown Pharmacy upended second-place Tony & Joe's 8-2.

Putting muscle into the Local 16 lineup were Caton Single with two doubles and two singles, Rex Buckingham with a double and three singles and Frank Mehlisch with a single, double and triple.

While playing errorless defense, Midtown Pharmacy made good use of four Tony & Joe's errors and scored five unearned runs. Walt Wilson, with two singles and a double, paced the Midtown offense, which had 12 hits compared with 11 for the opponents.

In another 35 & Over contest, Jacobsmeyer scored seven runs in the second innings and breezed to a 9-4 victory over VFW. Les Thompson and Bob Barnett had three hits each for Jacobsmeyer.

As usual in Women's League play, the hitting was frequent. Burger Chef came up with five runs in the final two innings to take a 4-1 slugfest.

For Burger Chef, Kathy Schmidt socked a homer, Maureen Ryan hit a double and triple and Sherry Danciger elicited for three singles. Eva Horn belted a round-tripper for the losers.

Dove Season Will Be Sept. 1 to Nov. 9

Mourning dove season will begin Friday, Sept. 1, and end Thursday, Nov. 9, the Illinois Department of Conservation announced this week.

Hunting hours will be from 1 p.m. DST, until sunset every day of the season. The daily bag limit is 12 doves, and the possession limit is 24 doves after opening day. On the first day of the season the possession limit is 12.

The federal regulation requiring that hunters leave a fully feathered wing on all migratory birds while in transit has been modified with regard to doves. Hunters may now completely dress their doves in the field.

Woodcock season will begin Sunday, Oct. 1, and end Monday, Dec. 4. Hunting hours will be from sunrise until sunset. The limits are five woodcocks a day and 10 in possession, except that hunters may have only five woodcocks in possession on the first day of the season.

The long-billed, elusive woodcock or timber dove is a game bird that migrates through Illinois in early fall. Its diet consists mainly of earthworms and other animal life that it finds by probing with its flexible bill in soft, moist soil. The bird is usually flushed from river bottoms.

1500 See 1967 Junior Olympics

In the short period of one and a half hours, 338 youths from 11 playground centers competed in 50 separate events in the Granite City district's annual Junior Olympics last night at Wilson Park.

Over 100 spectators viewed the event, which opened with a march of participants followed by a fanfare of trumpets and opening of the games by Barry Loman, park president.

The official flag was raised and an Olympic fire was lighted by William Loman, following playing of the national anthem by Granite City high school band members.

The Marshall grade school center had the largest number of combined points, finishing with 111½. Niedringhaus and Webster grade school centers both had 85 points, with Niedringhaus winning second place by the toss of a coin.

Wilson grade school center had 46, Namooki 43, McKinley 30½, Logan and Parkview tied with 30, Community Center 22 and the Salvation Army 11.

Mercer, Credit Union Hope to Gain Ground

Mercer Funeral Home (9-4) and Granite City Credit Union (7-7), the second and third-place teams in the Blue Division of the Inter-City baseball league, will be at home at 2:30 p.m. this Sunday to host low-ranking Red Division teams.

A win for Mercer over the East St. Louis Polish-American War Vets (6-8) at Cardinals Park would leave it one-half game out of the league lead if first-place Alton (11-2) loses to first-place Collinsville Moltor (10-3) of the Red Division in a game at the East Alton Fairgrounds.

Credit Union will play last-place Maryville (2-11) at the Coolidge junior high school diamond.

Sacred Heart (5-9) will travel to Pocahontas (6-7) of the Red Division. A Sacred Heart win coupled with a Polish War Vets defeat would leave the two teams tied for third in the Blue Division.

Tied for first in the Red Division, Troy will be at Fletcher field in Collinsville for a game against the last-place Utes (1-12) of the Blue Division.

Paddlers Win Swimming Meet

Paddlers swim club won a triangular meet with Montclair and Sunset Hills for novice 6-10 swimmers Monday at the Paddlers pool.

Paddlers tallied 100.5 points, Montclair 140 and Sunset Hills 53.5. There were 32 events, all 25 meters in distance.

Swimming coach Al Lewis said he was surprised by the strong performances of two of his eighty-year-old swimmers, Richard Becherer, who won the breast stroke and the free-style, and Jeffrey Odum, who won the back stroke and placed second in breast stroke.

Error Decides 2-1 Fast-Pitch Contest

Ray Hoffmann of Mathews saw his fourth pitching effort go down the drain as a three-base error in the sixth inning brought in the winning run for Credit Union in a 2-1 contest Tuesday night at Wilson Park.

Hoffmann was also the game's leading batter with two singles and an RBI. Credit Union scored its first run in the fifth when a fielder's choice enabled a runner to cross the plate. Jerry Voloski held Mathews to seven hits, and it was the error on his hit which decided the pitching duel.

In other fast-pitch Classic League softball, the Merchants staged a sixth, six-run second inning uprising and held on to beat Kirchner 8-5.

Ed Grote punched out three singles and Larry Melton singled and doubled for the Merchants, while Rocky Doss slammed a homer for Kirchner. Carroll Tingley picked up the victory.

high school, to the superintendent's office; Mrs. Louise Moore, assistant cook at Harris school, to head cook at Lewis Baez school; and Mrs. Vernice Johnson, from aide to clerk at MHS.

Mrs. Patricia Hartman was hired as a clerk at the junior high school, effective Aug. 16, and the superintendent was authorized to hire a clerk for Blair school.

Same Lunch Costs

The board approved an increase in high school lunches from 35 to 40 cents for students and to 50 cents for teachers. The cost of lunches at elementary and junior high schools will remain at 35 cents.

Dragich reported that state reimbursement may drop from five to four cents per lunch during the next school year. He said there was no reimbursement for last year and blamed it on insufficient federal appropriations.

The board approved a request from William Ledbetter, band director, to permit the Madison high school band to participate in a parade in downtown Springfield during the state fair next month. The musicians will receive free admission to the fair grounds.

A bid from the Arco Dressel Food Products Co. to provide milk at six cents a half-pint for white milk and 6½ cents for chocolate milk was approved. The prices are the same as last year.

Coal, Oil Prices

Tri-City Coal Co. received a contract for coal on a low bid of $13.50 per ton. Union Coal & Feed Co. bid $13.75.

Federal Oil Corp. was given the fuel oil contract on a low bid of 10.15 cents per gallon. Sinclair Refining Co. bid 10.38 cents and Apex Oil Corp. of St. Louis bid 11.75 cents.

The board accepted life safety Dugford for the junior and senior classes by Architect Virgil for high schools and for the Dunbar and Louis Baez elementary schools. They will be submitted to the county superintendent of schools.

Permission was granted to install two basketball goals on the parking lot next to the MHS tennis court fence and open the facilities to public use during the summer months.

Dragich reported that second-floor rooms in the administration building are being remodeled to provide office space for heads of special education departments. They formerly were used as living quarters for the superintendent and his family.

The superintendent was authorized to continue as official representative of the board to handle various state and federal special programs.

The school treasurer's report showed July 1 cash balances of $103,327 in the educational fund, $1902 in the lunch fund, none in the 1966 building fund, $48,110 in the building fund and $16,914 in the bonds and interest fund for a total of $170,255.

The board approved June salaries totaling $119,364, including deductions of $26,000, and June

Labor to Offer Candidate for School Board

A labor candidate for appointment to one of two vacancies on the Granite City school board will be submitted to the board by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council next Wednesday night when the school board is scheduled to fill the vacancies. It was decided last night at a regular meeting of the trade council in the Tri-City Labor Temple.

The council also instructed its legislative committee to conduct interviews Saturday morning of candidates reported under consideration for appointment by the school board. The interviews are to begin at 10 a.m. in the Labor Temple.

Names of the labor candidates, as well as those considered by the school board, have not been disclosed. The appointments will be made to fill vacancies created by recent resignations of William L. Harris, who was serving a one-year unexpired term, and Ronald Dillard, who resigned to resume teaching in the Granite City school system. Both were urban members of the board's appointments therefore must be made of urban area residents.

Reiske Elected 15th Time

The council elected Edwin F. Reiske as council president for his 15th consecutive term and re-elected by acclamation all other incumbent council officers except the vice-president.

To that post, council members elected Lennie Cockrell of the United Steelworkers to replace Everett Morten, of Steelworkers Local 16. Morten asked to be replaced because of changes in his work schedule.

Re-elected was Donald Patenry of the Firefighters union, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Peters of the Cooks and Waitresses; financial secretary James Arnett of Steelworkers Local 30; treasurer; George Gergus, Painter's union; guard; Mitchell Aramovic, Steelworkers Local 1063; guide; and John Lina, Steelworkers Local 1063; and Gene McGovern, Carpenters union, trustees.

County to Deny Warehouses

The Madison county zoning board of appeals was overruled on three recommendations involving area townships by the Madison county board Wednesday night. Two recommendations to permit warehouses were denied.

One was the petition of Louis Green, Daniel F. Boone, Harvey Boone, Brasley Boone and Bud Arnold for a truck warehouse in an R-3 one-family residence district in Nameek township in the Four Corners area.

Three neighboring residents objected on the floor, saying that the building and a raised parking lot would obstruct the normal drainage of water and damage their property.

The other was on the petition of Lloyd Belcher, Sr. for a warehouse to store household goods with adjacent office facilities and parking in an R-3 one-family residence district of Chouteau township.

Harry Deatherage, head of the Chouteau Township Citizens Committee, reported that residents of the area objected on grounds that the facilities would lessen the value of their homes.

The recommended denial of a petition of Melvin Davis for a mobile home in an R-4 single family residence district of Nameek township was overturned when Township Supervisor Harry Briggs explained that the location was adjacent to the home of Davis' parents and that he wanted to be on hand to maintain the home and take care of the parents.

The board approved the petition of Andrew Gitchell, owner, and John Sobol, purchaser, to rezone a tract of land in Nameek township from R-3 one-family residence to R-2 general business district. There were no objectors.

Also granted was the petition of Tester Merchant to place a home in an R-4 single-family residence district in Venice township.

A petition by Floyd L. Hamel to place a confectionery in his home in Chouteau township was denied.

Three were attributed to deaths. The county nursing home had 59 patients at the end of June.

The ordinances provide for concurrence in recommendations of the City Planning Commission to rezone the lots from residential to commercial zoning. All of the ordinances were placed on at least first reading and two were given final passage.

An ordinance amending the city electrical code, fixing the registration fee of electrical contractors at $25 instead of $30, was placed on first reading.

Another ordinance for a stop sign for northbound traffic on Grand avenue at 23rd street was given final passage under a suspension of rules.

tion from the sanitation committee for vehicles hauling waste materials. It raises the inspection fee from $5 to $10, with $5 going to the county clerk's office and $5 to the committee to cover costs. Out-of-state vehicle fees would remain at $100.

A follow-up amendment by Buehler makes it unlawful for landfill operators to accept materials from individuals who do not have licenses on vehicles, and provides fines of up to $200 for each offense.

Buehler said the move "put teeth into the ordinance so that landfill operators will be equally responsible for trucks coming in. Out-of-state trucks will need the licenses." Both of his amendments were approved.

During the landfill discussions, Sparks remarked that the Chouteau Island landfill, which opened in 1965, "probably started wrong and has been run wrong since. We do not want refuse from Missouri."

He added that "people in St. Louis county would not approve a landfill, incinerator or compost" in their county.

Also critical of the Chouteau Island landfill was Ferdinand Segor, who told the board of earth and water conditions and water below ground and of flood water could create a severe health hazard.

Increasing Need for Vocational Education

Is the Granite City high school vocational education program effective? Of the vocational graduates of 1960, all are employed and most are working in positions closely related to their field of study.

The survey was made by Maxwell M. Forbes, 1704 Primrose avenue, GCIS electric instructor who reported on it in partial fulfillment of the requirements for a master's degree in education. Excerpts from his study follow.

By Maxwell M. Forbes

(First of a series)

Vocational training today is very much in the news.

Vocational training, however, is not a new subject. Federal aid to vocational education started in 1917 under provisions of the Smith-Hughes Act.

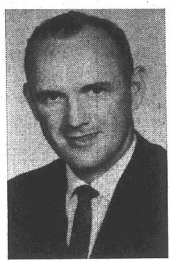

This legislation was enacted primarily because industries in the U. S. had relied on skilled labor from Germany and England prior to world war I. As a consequence, there was a shortage of skilled labor in the U. S. during world war I.

Highly successful vocational programs have been in existence for many years.

A very definite shortage of skilled labor exists at present. The need for vocational education cannot be questioned, since there are skilled jobs that go unfilled every day.

If there were no significant relationship between the high school vocational shop program and post-high school vocational choice, there would be need for revisions and changes in our program.

One of the main purposes of this study was to determine, if there was a significant relationship between the high school vocational shop program and post-high school vocational choice, there would be need for revisions and changes in our program.

MAXWELL M. FORBES

ent adult vocational choice. This is the real "acid" test of a vocational program.

Other purposes of the study were to survey several factors or characteristics relative to the 1960 vocational shop graduates, to the counseling and vocational shop program, and to present job status.

57 Students Surveyed
It included all 57 boys of the vocational shop programs who graduated in 1960. Most have established themselves in a somewhat stable job and have completed their military training.

Americans are more aware of the value of an education today. A few years ago, there was an emphasis on science at all levels of education. This, of course, was brought about with our efforts in the conquest of space.

The importance of a college education has been emphasized by colleges, universities and others who are much more skilled.

er organizations closely associated with higher education.

Has this emphasis impressed the minds of high school students and parents to the point that many of them think they are second-class citizens if they do not continue their education in a college or university?

Role of Counseling

Since all students do not share the same academic abilities and vocational interests, it is important that guidance programs in secondary schools give more attention to informing students about vocational and technical training.

More effort should be put forth in the education of counselors toward getting better guidance service for potential students in technical and vocational training programs.

There are four million unemployed people in the U. S. No one knows with any high degree of accuracy but that there may be as many as four million unfilled jobs.

Unemployed tend generally to be those who are relatively untrained. The unfilled jobs tend to be those that require a fairly high degree of education and training.

It is not possible to state with certainty the extent to which a comprehensive program of vocational education would aid in the solution of the unemployment problem. The chances are that it would help greatly.

Such a program should also increase the national income substantially. In addition, it should aid to the satisfaction the American people get from their work.

There can be little doubt that most jobs in the generation ahead are going to require persons who are much more skilled.

better trained and better educated than in the past. The total amount of vocational education provided by all institutions and agencies is undoubtedly going to increase.

This is true in agriculture and industry, where the workers who are going to be needed are those who have a high degree of skill, the capacity to keep their skills up-to-date, and the willingness to add new skills.

The construction industry, which at times in the past has been relatively slow to change, is changing in many aspects. The person in the building trades who is most likely to hold his job in the future is the one who is highly skilled and continuously adding new skills to meet the shifting requirements of new jobs. The same is true of most other fields.

Most Trained One-of-the-Job
It seems evident that the need for vocational education is going to increase, but it is not so easy to say which organizations should do most of the additional training. Schools cannot offer all phases of vocational education; historically, most training for work was done on the job.

In underdeveloped countries of the world, much of the vocational education will be given in the elementary school, or not in any school.

A generation or two ago in the U. S., vocational education was given in the high school, or not at all, for many and perhaps most students.

Many questions can be raised today, however, regarding the type and kind of education which should remain in the high school, should be moved up to the junior college. A great deal of vocational education will still have to be given to people of high school age.

School-Industry Cooperation
Some parts of this training may have to be given in the high school, building itself or moved into the work situation under the guidance and control of the school authorities.

During the past generation, business and industry have developed systems of vocational training and education that in many fields rival or surpass those offered in the high schools and colleges and universities, both in size and extent.

Institutions that are designed to a large part for the 6-18 age group cannot provide all of the vocational education that our modern technical society needs.

Very simple economic societies can operate successfully with simple educational systems. Complicated industrial societies need fairly complicated education systems.

Lifelong Program
These systems can be largely confined to the younger age group.

In an extremely complicated technical society, such as that in the U. S., a very elaborate educational system, extending through the entire working life of the individual, is required.

Our businesses and industries have been forced to set up elaborate training programs which in the future will become even more elaborate. Clearly, business and industry have the competence to do many parts of the total vocational education and training needed in the U. S.

Vocational training programs offered by business are especially strong in many of the following fields:

1. Foremen and supervisors.
2. A very large fraction of the sales jobs.
3. Hundreds of different jobs at the technicians' level.
4. Much advanced work in the engineering and highly technical and scientific fields.
5. Most types of office jobs.

Military Training
The military is already running superb vocational education programs in many fields. The number of these fields is likely to expand. Much of this training applies in a very large number of vocational fields in civilian life.

The typical young man in two years in the military has the opportunity to receive education and training which will help him in any one of hundreds of vocational fields in civilian life.

One such field includes almost all aspects of electronics. In aviation, much of the training has been carried on by the military, all the way from pilots and navigators to maintenance of motorized equipment of all kinds.

Large programs are available for training people in many different health fields. Sizeable programs operate in finance and business. Training is provided in many fields covering the security of persons and property.

The training offered by the armed forces would cover many thousands of different types of jobs that are important in civilian life.

MORE ABOUT Aldermen Still

was defeated 8-5, with negative votes cast by Aldermen Boyd, Poulos, Rutledge, Barsarich, Nott, Jarrett, Robertson and J. Johnson.

Defeat Budget Passage
After several aldermen expressed displeasure over the special improvement list because it failed to include projects for their wards, a motion to suspend the rules and place the budget ordinance on first reading, including the proposed special improvements, was defeated.

Six negative votes were cast, by Aldermen Barsarich, Rutledge, Jarrett, Whitmer and Dallas.

Since only 13 council members were present at the time of the voting, this is the only seven aye vote. Passage requires nine, which is a simple majority of the 16-man council.

Aldermen Emerald Dawes and Claude Gross are on vacation and did not attend the council session. Alderman Gerald Parmy attended but had to leave the meeting before the budget vote to report to work.

The second attempt to advance the ordinance bill was a motion to place it on first reading. This received five negative votes. The vote still left an insufficient number of affirmative votes needed to place the measure on first reading.

Voted Down 9-4
Alderman A. Barsarich then moved that the rules be suspended for final passage of the ordinance without the special improvements. The motion lost by a vote of 9-4.

Aldermen voting against the motion were Dallas, Moerlen, Boyd, Poulos, Rutledge, Barsarich, Jarrett, Robinson and Johnson. Voting for it were Barsarich, Whitmer, Nott and Fry.

Budget figures included in the budget ordinance presented for passage Monday night, by department, are:

- Administration, $128,451; water hydrant rental, $18,000; street and alley lighting, $40,000; parking meter operation, $40,000; interest and judgments, $60,000; fire department, $34,257; arterial street operation, $10,000; police department, $27,818; arterial street operation, $10,000; humane department, $12,000; inspection department, $28,400.

- Contingent fund, $8000; city hall fund, $37,185; city planning fund, $17,275; tax commissions fund, $25,154; Illinois Municipal Retirement fund, $45,000; sanitation department, $145,550; maintenance of sewer system, $60,000; civil defense, $14,018; election fund, $7000; school crossing guards, $22,000; air pollution fund, $23,500.

"Up to You"
Firemen's pension fund, $55,000; Police pension fund, $55,000; public safety, $130,000; sewage treatment fund, $171,850.

As rejection of the budget became apparent, Nott told the council that "you are going to fool around and find yourself without a budget. We gave you what we think is a good budget for further discussion in Saturday's session."

The council, unable to finish its heavy load of work before the 11 p.m. meeting curfew, adjourned until 10 a.m. Saturday. With five council members still to report to complete this week's agenda, it was uncertain whether the budget will be called for further discussion in Saturday's session.

Advanced Techniques Studied by Nurses Here

Southern Illinois University nursing students are participating in a patient care planning session at St. Elizabeth Hospital under a contractual arrangement between Southern Illinois University and the hospital.

The registered nurses are spending the summer here to study advanced techniques in medical-surgical nursing leadership. Miss Bernice Zich, SIU instructor of the group, reports that "emphasis is placed on individualized patient care through planning, providing and evaluating the nursing care that each patient receives."

The first five weeks of the program are concentrated on medical-surgical nursing. During the second five weeks, each student will assume the roles of nursing team leader.

The nurses are scheduled to graduate Sept. 1 with a bachelor of science degree in nursing. Mrs. Colleen Bickel, a graduate of Belleville Junior College and mother of two teenage boys, drives daily from Lenzburg, Ill. She plans to continue her education for a master of science degree in nursing service administration.

Mrs. Lucille Helwig graduated from Columbia Hospital School of Nursing in South Carolina in 1941. She has been on the dean's honor list, and believes that "one is never too old to learn." She is on a leave of absence from a public health nursing position and will return in September. She resides in Caseyville and will continue her education on a part-time basis.

Mrs. Jane Bruker, a graduate of Wichita General Hospital School of Nursing, Wichita Falls, Tex., and mother of six children, hopes to continue her education towards a master degree in nursing education. She lives in Edwardsville.

Miss Karen Frankino, a graduate of Lakeview Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Danville, plans marriage in September. She hopes to work as a staff nurse, but will continue her graduate education toward a master degree in education. She currently resides in Westville.

Miss Cheryl Smith is a graduate of Springfield Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Springfield, Ill. Her plans include continued education in psychiatric nursing, as preparation for teaching and consulting work in mental health. Her home is in Christopher, Ill.

Model Rocketry Society To Meet; Seek Members

The Society of Model Rocketry of Granite City will hold its kick-off meeting at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the YMCA auditorium. All adults and youths are being invited to attend.

The model rocketry club was formed by John Hendrick, industrial arts teacher at Prather junior high school, to provide supervised learning and safety procedures.

He said it is a worthwhile activity for youngsters and adults interested in the space age as a hobby or career.

Following a successful contest earlier this month, the meeting will mark the beginning of a Quad-City-wide membership drive. Purposes, activities and goals of the society will be outlined.

Hendrick pointed out the im-

$6½ Million SIU-SW Construction Projects

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus has received $6½ million for capital projects, part of a $123 million state appropriation for SIU signed by Gov. Otto Kerner.

At least $1½ million of the total will be used to complete newly constructed buildings, to equip buildings now under construction or in planning stages, and to work on roads at the campus.

Construction costs for new buildings or those still in planning were provided in the last biennial appropriation. They include a faculty office wing to the science building, a general office building on which construction has started, a physical education building and a supporting services building.

The Southwestern campus was awarded nearly $5 million in new appropriations. Previously listed grants were renewals of past appropriations.

Over a half million dollars will be spent to equip the new communications building with educational radio and TV equipment. $3 million will be used for land and road development. $10,000 will go to campus renovations and $500,000 will be used to hire architects for building studies.

Kahok Dancers to Hold Ceremonial at Mounds

The Kahok Indian Dancers of Collinsville will present their annual Calumet ceremonial dance at 8:30 p.m. today, Friday and Saturday at Cahokia Mounds State Park. There is no admission charge.

The dance will be at the Temple mound on the south side of Route 40. Frank Acardi, director, suggests that those attending bring baskets or folding chairs and a mosquito repellent.

2 Eagle Scouts To Take Part in World Jamboree

Two Granite City Eagle scouts, Robert Bunselmeyer and Donald Durbin, will be leaving this Saturday for the twelfth World Scout Jamboree to be held Aug. 19 at Farragut State Park in Idaho.

Scouts from all over the world will be assembling at the jamboree, which will be the first ever held in the U. S.

Both 16 years old, they were selected out of a large number of applicants to represent this area. They are members of Post Six.

They will travel by train to Chicago, Seattle, Vancouver and Glacier National Park before arriving at Farragut State Park. Robert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bunselmeyer, Rural Route One, was one of 90 boys in a four-state region to be selected as a council representative. As the representative of the Cahokia Mound Council, he will reside at the scout headquarters and act as a guide and interpreter for foreign scouts.

Closing Hours Set For County Taverns

Taverns in unincorporated areas of county must be closed by 1 a.m. during the week or 1/2 a.m. on Saturdays, effective Aug. 1, according to an ordinance adopted by the Madison county board Wednesday morning.

The old ordinance merely prohibited the sale of liquor after the so-called closing hours but did not force closure of the taverns.

Sheriff George Musso complained that he could not close the taverns at the appropriate hours without an ordinance. When asked about establishments with liquor licenses which sell food, the sheriff said, "That's a gimmick. Some sell only sandwiches and call it food. All they have are iceboxes."

Dan Churovich, assistant Granite City township supervisor, felt that a period of grace of about 15 or 20 minutes should be stipulated in the ordinance to give the operators time to clear their establishments of patrons.

He argued that it is still legal to sell liquor up to 1 a.m. during the week and that it becomes the property of the customer, but it is illegal for the patron to carry an open bottle into his auto. Sheriff Musso assured that the operators would be given enough time to comply and noted that, in the past, many have announced that the closing hour was approaching 10 to 15 minutes ahead of time. Previously, a customer could buy a case just before 1 a.m. and stay in a tavern all night drinking it if the establishment was kept open. Churovich cast the only dissenting vote.

A. O. Smith Earnings Up in Second Quarter

A. O. Smith Corp. improved its performance significantly in the second quarter of 1967. L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said this week. Earnings for the three months ended June 30 were $2,630,000, or $1.11 a share, compared with $2,109,000, or 89 cents a share, for the same period a year earlier.

First-half earnings for 1967 totaled $4,283,000, or $1.81 a share, against $4,104,000, or $1.75, in 1966.

Similarly, sales increased in the second quarter-up 10% to $91,857,000 from $83,082,000 a year earlier. This rise was sufficient to offset a first-quarter decline, with sales for the first six months of 1967 advancing to $168,602,000 from $167,942,000 a year earlier. "The second-quarter improvement counteracted a slow first quarter, which was a reflection of the leveling of the nation's economy," Smith said.

While A. O. Smith automobile frame shipments increased in the second quarter, Automotive Division sales and earnings for the first half of the year were below the 1966 level. The sustained high level of sales to the trucking industry, however, aided second-quarter performance.

Depot Staff Saves U. S. $5389 With Suggestions

Within the fiscal quarter ending June 30, a total of 21 suggestions from Granite City Army Depot employees was adopted, resulting in annual savings of $5389.

George E. Eubanks, Depot public information officer, said cash awards to individuals offering the suggestions amounted to $530.

Nameoki Town Board Discusses Zoning, Safety

Comments on a zoning petition by local residents and safety factors near Fairmount race track were heard Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Nameoki town board.

Subject of several heated remarks by Arthur Ringering, Rural Route One, was a recommendation by the Zoning Board of Appeals May favoring construction of a truck warehouse in a district of one-family residences.

Proposed site is the "Four Corners" area near Highway 162 and Lake drive.

An on-site hearing brought protests from area residents who presented a petition containing only 35 signatures. Objectors attended the May 18 meeting of the town board.

The Board of Appeals recommendation to re-zone the property was reversed by the county board yesterday.

Ringering, who lives on Lake drive adjacent to the proposed site, criticized the zoning board for "overriding what the people want."

Those who spoke out against the zoning change at the May 18 meeting cited an expected increase in truck traffic as a result of the facility. They said there could be a hazard to young children living in nearby homes, and also said they would prefer to not have an increase in noise from trucks.

Race Track Traffic

Auditor Robert Strackeljah expressed concern about traffic congestion in the vicinity of VFW lane near the Fairmount track. He said the area is residential, and speeding motorists are utilizing short-cuts through the subdivision. He requested a survey to determine if traffic leaving the track can be routed one-way in the area.

Strackeljah informed board members that operators of the track have erected a cyclone type fence across a drainage creek at the rear of the track property. He said that in the event of a heavy rain, the creek water would rise sharply and debris could collect at the fence, blocking the flow. "This situation area," he warned.

He also noted problems that could be encountered should a fire develop in the track's barn area. He said that a gate where access previously could be gained by emergency vehicles is now blocked off. Fast entry into the track will be impossible, he said.

Strackeljah said fire hydrants at the track appear to be inadequate. He added that 1150 horses currently are quartered at Fairmount for the 1967 racing season.

Inspector Assigned
Asked by Supervisor Harry Briggs if complaints from area residents on the method of maintaining horse barns have been renewed this year, Strackeljah said a few objections have reached him. The board decided to assign a health inspector to study safety and sanitation conditions at the track.

Township officials authorized purchase of a dog control kit from the Palmer Chemical & Equipment Co., Douglasville, Ga., for $242. The equipment, used to subdue vicious animals, includes a long-range rifle-type CO2 projector, cartridges, syringes and solution.

Also approved was a one-year service contract with Olivette-Underwood of St. Louis to inspect, clean and service a calculating machine at a cost of $38. A report by Township Assessor

Condition of Residence Debated by Officials

A brief but sharp exchange between Granite City council members and Cville Deltour, city building inspector, developed in Monday night's council meeting after the council had instructed Deltour to order repairs and improvements of a residence in the 2200 block of East 26th street.

The differences grew out of a discussion, and subsequent council action, on a petition by residents of 26th street asking for improvement of a house in the 2200 block which the petition said has become "a blight and a nuisance to the neighborhood."

Alderman Sam Whitmer, in whose ward the house is located, said the petition, which was presented as a communication by City Clerk Homer Pendleton, came as a surprise.

"I wish the petitioners had come to the alderman about it first and we could have worked with them on this," Whitmer said. He moved that the building inspector be instructed to investigate the matter and see to it that improvements are made.

Nothing He Can Do

Deltour, who was sitting with other department heads on the sidelines of the council meeting, replied there was nothing he can do.

"That house is certainly not in any condition to be condemned," Deltour said, "and I have no authority to go up to those people and force them to fix up their house."

"If you don't have the authority, who does?" Whitmer asked. "I don't," said Deltour, adding that "just because a house has a couple of shingles off it, you can't force them to do anything."

Deltour added that there is very little wrong with the house in question. "It only has a couple of shingles off it," he pointed out again.

Says Repairs Needed
"That's not true," Whitmer responded. "I've seen that house. I've been by it. It is in bad need of repair." Whitmer turned to Deltour and said:

"If you don't think you can take the proper steps on this, then forget it."

"Okay," Deltour replied. "I'll forget it."

Whitmer then revised his motion to provide that the city council, as a committee of the whole, investigate the matter and take the steps found necessary.

In other business, a brief argument over the legality of notices for public hearings to be held July 26 on the city's plan to issue $156,000 worth of revenue bonds for sewer improvements resulted in passage of a motion to amend the original resolution. The amendment changed the date of the hearings from July 22 to July 26.

Questions Hearing Legality
Alderman R. E. Robertson questioned the legality of the hearings because the original resolution fixed the hearing date on July 22. He pointed out that the city's legal publication notice changed the date to July 26.

Robertson asked why it was done and said there was a question in his mind as to whether the change of date was a council action, might nullify legality of the hearing and its results.

Joseph Cohan for salaries of deputy assessors was referred to an audit committee. Appointed to audit the report for presentation at the next meeting were John C. Schick, Herbert Foley and Strackeljah.

Bills approved for payment included $636 from the special fund road fund; $170, town fund; and $1163, road and bridge fund.

Alderman Edmund Bartosiak said the date was changed because July 22 did not permit a 15-day lapse between the time of publication and the date of the hearing, required by state law.

Robertson persisted in his challenge of the legality of the hearings. As a result, Bartosiak moved to amend the original resolution to change the date from July 22 to 26. The motion carried. Robertson voted against it.

Want Decision Reviewed

The council approved a motion by Alderman Ford Johnson to ask Robert Kronst, district state highway engineer at French Village, to review his previous decision against the removal of no-parking limitations in the 4000, 4100 and 4200 blocks of Maryville road.

The action followed discussion of a petition by residents of a three-block area asking the council to obtain removal of the parking ban and to bring about improved enforcement of speed limits in the area.

A letter from Kronst, rejecting a previous plea for removal of no-parking signs along the street, was read. Johnson said Kronst should be asked to review the matter because cars travel at high speed on Maryville road and parking along the street might tend to cut down high-speed traffic.

Seek Policing Aid
Johnson's motion also provided that the city ask the county to aid in policing the area to cut down speeding.

A request by the Downtown Granite City Shopping Center Association for permission to hold an annual sidewalk sale on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 4 and 5, was granted by council members, contingent on a waiver of liability in event of an accident on city sidewalks.

Council members also concurred in zoning recommendations of the zoning board of appeals to grant two variations from side property lines to permit construction of carports. The council granted a variation of seven feet from the sidewalk to Charles Buttrely, 2391 Waterman avenue, and a similar variation requested by William P. Ridings Jr., 3020 Dale avenue.

Reduce Rental Cost

A communication from Xerox Corp. notifying the city it is reducing monthly basic rental charges on copying machines from $225 to $175 on one model and from $300 to $200 on another model was read to the council and filed.

The council was notified by the Illinois Department of Revenue that the city's sales tax allotment for April amounted to $23,923.

On a motion by Alderman Paul Rutledge, the council approved payment of $3002 as the city's contribution toward operation of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, an agency which approves project planning by communities, counties and other taxing agencies.

GC Steel Net Income Down, Break-In Period a Factor

Net income of Granite City Steel Co. for the three months ended June 30 was $1,563,000, or 36 cents per share of common stock, compared with $2,831,000, or 63 cents per share, in the second quarter of 1966 "when we had the advantage of a much stronger demand for steel and higher level of plant operation," Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board and president, announced yesterday.

Veeder pointed out that "the phasing-out of our open hearth furnaces in the second quarter as we brought our new oxygen steelmaking plant on stream limited production, which in our volume-oriented operation had a temporarily adverse effect on profits."

The company shipped 233,000 tons of flat rolled steel products in the second quarter this year and had net sales of $34,431,000 compared with shipments of 236,000 tons and sales of $42,943,000 in the second quarter of 1966.

The company produced 237,000 tons of ingot steel in the second quarter this year compared with 378,000 tons in the second quarter of 1966.

"So far we have not experienced a turn-about in the slack business conditions prevalent in the steel industry for the last several months," Veeder said. "However, we look forward to improvement in the near future based on overall economic conditions."

Investment Tax Credit
Veeder pointed out that Granite City Steel's earnings in 1967 "are benefiting from a substantially larger investment tax credit, which reduced the net charge to operations for federal income taxes for the first half of 1967 to $2,101,000, compared with a reduction of $480,000 for the first six months of 1966."

Non-Scouts to Spend Week at Camp Sunnen

Cooperative efforts by local agencies with the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission will result in 30 Madison County youngsters leaving Sunday morning for a week-long camping holiday at Camp Sunnen, the Catholic Mount Boy Scout Council facility near Potosi, Mo.

Few, if any, of the scout-age youths have previous camping experience and all are looking forward to the expedition, David Walker, assistant EOC director, said today.

The camping project is part of the EOC's summer recreation program. Overall activities in the program are being financed by a $25,533 federal grant announced last week.

"Several agencies were involved in helping get this project underway," Walker said. He gave special praise to Eugene Coe, Boy Scout council executive, Col Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer of the Granite City Army Depot, has agreed to provide a driver and bus transport the youths to Camp Sunnen.

Other agencies whose personnel assisted in recruiting the boys and securing parental permission included the Madison county public office and the Illinois Youth Commission. Two local physicians are to furnish necessary medical examinations prior to the boys leaving Sunday.

The youths will depart at 9 a.m. from the Madison Avenue Neighborhood Center, 5000 S. street and Madison avenue. The group will return to the departure point the following Saturday afternoon.

More than 125 boys from Madison county are expected to participate before the camping program ends Aug. 12. Most of the 11-to-13-year-olds are from the Quad-Cities, Alton, Edwardsville and State Park areas, Walker said.

SUPERMARKET EXPANSION will be carried out at the Schermers Brothers store, 1125 Madison avenue, Madison, immediately south of the building. Three structures on the lot, one commercial and two residential, are being razed.

Schermers Bros. Supermarket To Be Expanded

Schermers Brothers Market, Madison avenue at 12th street, Madison, today announced plans to expand its sales area space by building a 35x120-foot addition onto the south side of the store. The new brick structure will conform to the original design of the store, and the interior will include terrazzo flooring, air-conditioning and the other features of the existing store. To make room for the expansion, a lot containing three buildings has been acquired and the structures currently are being removed. Two are residential and one commercial. "The addition will permit larger departments within the store and wider aisles," Avery Schermers explained. "It was made necessary by increased business and the continuing increase in new food products. "We will be able to offer a greater selection in all areas, particularly vegetables, meat, frozen food and dairy products." The building project is expected to be completed in six months. G. H. Sternberg & Co. is handling the demolition. A contract for the addition has not yet been awarded.

DR. HARRY A. McLEAN

Dr. McLean Is Named To Laboratory Staff

Dr. Harry A. McLean, pathologist, has joined the laboratory staff at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Dr. McLean completed his pre-medicine studies at Fort Hays State College, Hays, Kan., and completed medical school at the St. Louis University School of Medicine. After a five-year practice in general medicine, he spent two years of the Korean War as a flight surgeon in the Air Force. In addition to a more recent residency in pathology, Dr. McLean served a residency in internal medicine. He comes to St. Elizabeth from DePaul Hospital, St. Louis, as a replacement for Dr. Larry E. Farris, who has taken a position in Orlando, Fla.

Collision Clarified

Mrs. Marie Taylor, 2009 Russell avenue, whose car was one of two in a collision July 12, reported this week that she was southbound on Grand avenue. The other auto was westbound on Tenth and lacked the right-of-way, she said.

Patent to McCollegan For Tire Storage Cover

Fred J. McCollegan, 2252 Lee street, has been awarded U. S. Patent 3,326,259, entitled "Tire Covers," the Press-Record learned today. The armed forces and many large industrial firms often find it necessary to store wheeled vehicles for several years before they are put into use, it was explained. This is particularly true of the U. S. Army, which maintains large supply depots throughout the U. S. and overseas, such as the Granite City Army Depot, where McCollegan is employed. The vehicles, after being driven into and parked within the storage area, are jacked up and set on blocks. However, over the course of many months and due to constant exposure to the weather, the tires deteriorate and become non-serviceable. To cope with this problem, McCollegan has devised a novel cover which is adapted especially for use on vehicular tires. It reduces deterioration and protects the tire from the elements. The novel cover is relatively simple in construction and economical to manufacture, and may be installed easily on the wheels and diameters and also those of dual wheels. It includes holes that allow water, which may have found its way into the mounted cover, to drain from it. The application for the patent, and is of a size and shape to which consists of 12 claims of cover the tread and sidewalls of the tire. It was filed June 15, 1965, and approved this summer.

8 to Compete for Depot Anniversary Queen Honors

Eight attractive young women will compete for the title of "Anniversary Queen" as part of the Granite City Army Depot's 25th birthday celebration Tuesday, Aug. 1.

All are employed at the local military installation and have been nominated as queen candidates by fellow employees in their particular directorate. Six of the eight contestants reside in the Quad-Cities.

Candidates are: Miss Patricia Adcock, 207 South Hartman lane, O'Fallon, Ill.; Miss Sandra A. Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Carr, 2333 Grand avenue; Miss Marilyn Gonterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gonterman, 3834 Lake street; Miss Sharon Koch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koch, 1699 Pontoon road.

Miss Marilyn Brown, the 1964 queen, who represented the Directorate of Maintenance, will present the royal regalia to her successor. The titleholder will be selected on the basis of personality, attractiveness and charm. Final choice from among the eight candidates will rest with three officials of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. Those to serve as judges are Howard W. Kaseberg, C. of C. president; Clifford E. Blankenship, chairman of the Chamber's Military Affairs committee; and William Kozyak, a member of the same committee.

Weekend Trip Offered By GC Park District

Another "first" is being planned by the Granite City park district, which will offer a special three-day weekend excursion to Kansas City and Independence, Mo., on Aug. 25, 26 and 27.

Space is limited to 43 persons and reservations must be made prior to Friday, July 28, at the Wilson Park office, Supt. Harold Brown reports.

The trip will include a tour of the Truman Library at Independence and a performance of "Sound of Music" at the "Theatre Under the Stars" in Swopes Park, Kansas City. Also part of the "package deal" is two nights' lodging at the Ramada Inn, Independence, and round-trip transportation via air-conditioned bus.

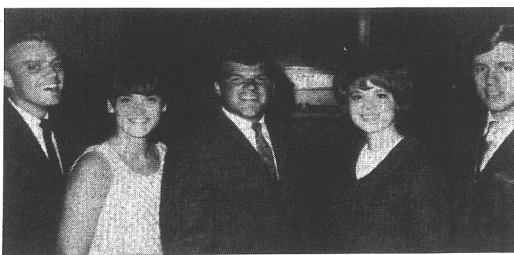

Meals are not included in the total price, which is set at $55 a person for those wishing single room accommodations and $30 per person for a double room with twin beds. All other expenses, excepting meals, are included in the two figures.

Hotel commitments must be made by the July 28 deadline, with those making reservations also to deposit money at that time.

Brown added, "The weekend excursion has been arranged at the suggestion of local residents and, if successful, will be the forerunner of additional trips to other interesting areas."

Changing Times

Present-day rapidity of progress makes yesterday's luxuries the necessities of tomorrow.

Religious Play to Be Presented Here Sunday

The Young Life group of the First Assembly of God will present a religious drama, "Q.E.D.," Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The abbreviation means "Quod Erat Demonstrandum," Latin for "That which has been proved." It is a contemporary play written by Eva Carver, who taught drama at Bob Jones University. There is a mock trial between a Christian lawyer and an atheist lawyer. "On trial is the resurrection of Christ—did the resurrection take place?" a spokesman explained.

"Q.E.D." features a cast of 20 Young Life members. The two leading roles of the lawyers are played by Don Stover, director of music and youth, and Ramon Talley. The other three principals are played by Carolyn Jenkins, Beverly Vaughn and

State-City Air Pollution Issue Unsettled

An attempt to challenge the compatibility of the new Granite City air pollution control ordinance with the regulations established by the Illinois State Air Pollution Board was sidetracked during the regular city council meeting Monday night by the press of a heavy agenda.

The discussion was initiated by Alderman Paul Rutledge, who pointed out that the council, when it approved amendments to the city's pollution control ordinance on July 3, "was given the impression that it would make our city law compatible with state regulations. Now I understand that this is not the case."

Rutledge referred to statements by representatives of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities that the amendments make the city control law so much more stringent than state regulations that it will be impossible for most industries, particularly in the heavy metals field, to comply with the emission and abatement requirements.

"I would like to know," Rutledge said, "if the city ordinance is not more stringent than state laws, or if it is stricter than state laws."

Rutledge referred to legal opinions of the Illinois attorney general which industrial representatives claim that the amendments are not more stringent than state laws, or if it is stricter than state laws.

Allen doesn't agree. Richard Allen, city attorney, said that the city law is more stringent than the state law. He also quoted several legal opinions, one of which held that the imposition of regulations by the local bodies that are more stringent than the state regulations does not constitute a conflict of laws.

Allen added that in his opinion the Granite City control ordinance is not more stringent than the state law. Rutledge replied that "there seems to be something wrong with this," but further discussion was blocked by a motion for adjournment.

At that point the council adjourned its 11 p.m. session, with six more council committees still scheduled to make reports.

The meeting was adjourned until 10 a.m. Saturday.

The discussion followed a request early in the council session by the recently formed Citizens for Clean Air Committee that the city step up its enforcement of air pollution regulations by establishing an enforcement staff and employing a full-time secretary.

Mrs. Jean Francis, chairman of the committee, accompanied by a delegation of committee members, expressed the group's appreciation for enacting a stricter ordinance and urged the city to step up the pace of enforcement.

Dr. Berman Addresses Council
Dr. B. B. Berman, Granite City physician, addressed the council on behalf of the clean air group, concerning medical aspects of pollution, pointing out that while much has been done to alleviate contamination in the Quad-City area, much still remains to be accomplished. He said strict enforcement of anti-pollution regulations is a necessity.

"The medical side of the pollution picture has existed for many, many years," Dr. Berman told the council. "Granite City, Madison county and the St. Louis area, always have been among the worst for smoke. St. Louis did something about smoke. Granite City has, too, but not to the extent of St. Louis."

"The eye, ear, nose and throat specialists in St. Louis have told me that they get more patients from the Illinois side of the river than they do from St. Louis and the surrounding area. On the basis of population comparison, this is a sad picture," he continued.

Dr. Berman concluded with the remark that "when the wind blows from the east side of the river to the west, the doctors in St. Louis know they are going to get a run of youngsters with ailments resulting from air pollution. Our plea is for the health of the youngsters that normally will sit in your places."

Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the council's Air Pollution Committee, told the group that the city is unlikely to hire a full-time secretary until the question of enforcement responsibility is settled between the city and the state.

"Right now we don't know the what the answer is," Whitmer told the group.

"If the state is going to assume a secretary and duplicating enforcement procedure."

"We expect to get some answers to this soon," as Klassen (C. W. Klassen, secretary of the state air pollution board) has agreed to meet with us in the near future."

Speeding Charge
Joseph Miller 111, 118 Abbott street, Venice, was charged with speeding at 18th street and Madison avenue at 10:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Bernice Lombardi, Ramona Lombardi and Rose Petrillo, A special prize went to Bernice Lombardi.

A cousin of the honoree, Miss Debbie Williams, presented her with a corsage of miniature kitchen utensils, including a rolling pin and cup and saucer.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to 75 guests. Another of the late summer brides, Miss Hamilton will be married to James Dale Parker Aug. 12 at 11:30 a.m. at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

City's Reserve Dwindling As Fund Deficits Increase

Madison Police Catch 3 in Purse Snatchings

A purse snatching and an attempted purse snatching by three small boys were reported solved by police this week with apprehension of the boys by Madison Juvenile Officer William Fanning.

Authorities said the boys, 12, 14 and 15 years old, were identified as those who tried unsuccessfully to take a purse away from Mabel Burfield, 2019 Steen street, about 4 p.m. July 13, and who stole a purse from Mrs. Lillian Ziegler, 704 State street, in a Madison tavern earlier in the week.

Juvenile cases will be filed against the 12 and 14-year-old boys in Madison county court at Edwardsville because they have been involved in several previous cases of theft. The other boy, a first offender, will be counseled by the juvenile officer. The boys attempted to take the purse away from Mrs. Burfield in the Madison Laundromat at 608 Madison avenue. She said she resisted the boys, who fled.

Mrs. Ziegler reported to police that the boys came into the tavern about 7:30 p.m. July 11. One of them grabbed her purse, containing $4.70, and ran out. The purse was found near the home of one of the boys.

Advice for July —Take It Easy

You can't really beat the heat. Whether it's the heat or the humidity or both, it's hot in almost all of the United States in July.

After weeks of sweating and steaming, it's not uncommon to find the heat is beginning to wear you down.

You can't do anything about the outside temperature. You can avoid it if you're fortunate enough to work and live in air-conditioned comfort, but it still will be hot outside.

There are some things you can do to be more comfortable — things that can help you beat the heat.

Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest.

Wear light, loose clothing. The ladies have an edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice, particularly if you have liver or kidney trouble or a heart at play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense and you can beat the heat—at least somewhat.

Hole Cut in Wire Fence Dale Onke, 3016 Myrtle avenue, reported Monday that a hole was cut in a wire link fence at his home during the night.

condition. Take a shower or dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts and salads, unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day.

There is a sound physical reason behind the siesta custom of the tropics.

You need exercise in the summer as well as in the winter, but don't overdo it, especially on extra hot days. Don't overdo physical exertion, whether at work or at play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense and you can beat the heat—at least somewhat.

GC Park Budget May Total $346,421

Decrease of $6068 Due To Bond Payment Cut In Tentative Proposal

The Granite City park board is considering a tentative budget totaling $346,421 for the 1967-68 fiscal year, a reduction of $6068 from that of last year. Adoption may be considered at the July 26 meeting.

The board currently is studying the possible effect of new park tax rate legislation by the state.

The new budget calls for an appropriation of $46,800 to retire ice rink bonds, including $1800 interest, a decrease of $36,896 to account for most of the overall reduction.

Full use of the new ice rink, expected to be completed this year, calls for increases in some budgeted items, and salary increases of up to $25 per month are provided for some park employees.

The $25 monthly increases included the park district superintendent, raised to $8500 per year, and the district secretary, to $2820, while the salary of the district treasurer is boosted by $200 to $1400 in the tentative budget.

The total for general park purposes is $236,100, up $28,176 for neighborhood playgrounds, $21,520, down $1870; Wilson Park playgrounds $12,702, up $2202; community house, $16,380, up $720; Illinois Municipal Retirement fund and Social Security, $920, up $1700; and $4000 for insurance, up $1800.

Investing Varies—Based on Goals, Risks, Convenience, Preferences

By THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. There seem to be so many ways for the "little guy" to invest. There are investment clubs, the Monthly Investment Plan, government bonds, bank savings and mutual funds. Would you tell me which might be the best for me? I am 40, unmarried, and right now am having $30 a month automatically transferred from my bank checking account to my savings account.

A. I suppose the reason we have so many different ways for the "little guy" or any guy to invest is that different people have different needs, different goals and different ideas of what sensible investing involves.

The various methods you have outlined involve different kinds of risk, different degrees of convenience, and different kinds of opportunity.

Bank savings contain very little risk and you are practically certain to get the exact number of dollars back. Most banks carry Federal Deposit Insurance, which covers you up to $15,000.

Bank interest rates are now quite good on savings deposits. What you do not have here is protection against inflation; $10,000 in the bank since 1950 would have earned only $10,000, but its purchasing power today in terms of 1950 dollars would be less than $2,000.

A bank savings account is a very essential part of everyone's financial planning; other forms of investing or savings should also be considered.

Government bonds are quite certain to pay you interest and the exact number of dollars back at maturity, but other than the Defense and Savings Bonds, up to the date of maturity you frequently will not be able to sell them for their face value.

Funds, Clubs Explained
Investment clubs, the Monthly Investment Plan (MIP) and mutual funds all have one thing in common: you invest in corporations.

tion stocks. Stocks are different in that you have no guarantee that you will get any stated sum back.

In an investment club, you select investments in a pool and, if you run a good club, should learn a great deal about securities.

In a mutual fund, you pay someone else to select stocks for you. The fee is fairly high, however, and right now you are buying a stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange on the installment plan.

At our first meeting I would first see that I was covered with a reasonable amount of life and hospital insurance. I would also have a savings account of $200 to $500. Then I would adopt a plan for buying stocks emphasizing companies that have a record of growing better than 5% a year.

You may use an investment club, MIP or a mutual fund to acquire them. From my own experience, I'd be inclined to use the investment club for at least a part of your program.

Foreign Bonds in Fire
Q. I lost some bonds of a foreign country in a fire. How do we go about replacing them? We own them.

A. First, talk with your broker. If you know the name and date of the bond issue, he should be able to locate the trustee, probably a New York bank.

Since it is unlikely that the bonds were actually registered in your name, the next step is to provide the trustee-bank with proof of ownership. If you still have acknowledgement of the purchase from the broker, this may be very helpful.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, editor of the monthly magazine "Better Investing," will answer as many as possible in his column or by personal mail, but must not answer questions of general interest. Correspondents will receive a free copy of "Better Investing." Write to T. E. O'HARA, National Association of Investment Clubs, Dept. S, Box 1056, Detroit, Mich. 48231.

As Magna Carta Said, In Effect, 'A Man's Home Is His Castle'

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

The aim of the law is a long one but it falls short of opening doors for police officers, or building or health inspectors, who are without a warrant supported by reasonable cause for a search of the premises.

A police officer may be looking for evidence in a crime and the health inspector may be anxious to protect the public from a pestilence, but even such worthy missions yield to the right of the individual under the Constitution.

The 4th Amendment states: "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, that the search or seizure is justified by the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

The U. S. Supreme Court, in a recent decision, affirmed the right of the property owner to deny entry to a police officer, or health inspector, or other person without a warrant.

In doing so, the court set aside the convictions of Roland A. Camara, operator of a store on the ground floor of a San Francisco apartment, and Norman See, operator of a warehouse in Seattle.

Voluntary Permission
The rule doesn't mean that inspectors must always have a warrant, since most citizens will permit inspection.

However, that is the prerogative of the citizen and, the court said, unless there is some other reason for gaining immediate entry, a warrant should be obtained whenever entry is denied.

According to the court, it is not necessary for an inspector to have specific reason to suspect a particular building contains a code violation. Instead, the opinion held that warrants may be issued if "reasonable legislative or administrative standards for conducting an area inspection are satisfied."

In applying the 4th Amendment to police action, the California Supreme Court ruled in 1961 that "the Constitution requires that a search of a building should be secured from unreasonable police intrusions, even though some criminals should escape."

In effect, the Constitution says, "A man's home is his castle," and the government, whether it be the king or government, "shall not send against him unless by the lawful judgment of his peers."

"It protects Americans forever against the tyranny of 'the midnight knock at the door'."

BURNING OF TRASH
AT HOMES IS A NUISANCE
To the Editor:

It may not be long before burning of trash will not be allowed, but until that day arrives, we must live with it. I have heard of certain nuisances which are created by neighbors whom we would prefer not to have at all.

We can recognize such a neighbor in one of the following situations:

1. The neighbor who burns his grass and weeds while you are entertaining friends with an outdoor picnic in your back yard.

2. The neighbor who burns garbage or other odor-creating rubbish at any time.

3. The one who decides to make his bonfire on a Monday morning just as you are ready to hang your white shirts and sheets out on the line.

4. The neighbor with a full-air-conditioned home who saves his trash or newspapers for an evening fire that will smolder all night. This neighbor does not stop to consider that some of us still open our windows at night for a breath of air on these hot summer evenings, and it's very discouraging to have your home filled with smoke from a neighbor's fire.

Everyone is busy. I'm sure, but each of us could plan to burn our burning at a time when it would not be offensive to others in the neighborhood.

SMOKED OUT
PATIENT PRAISES CARE
DURING HOSPITAL STAY
To the Editor:

From the time I arrived to the time I was discharged from St. Elizabeth Hospital, I was given a feeling that it is so important to a person when ill, a feeling of someone actually caring about you and your condition. I was given all the special kind of care I needed.

Hope, strength and concern—this is what I received at St. Elizabeth Hospital from the doctors, nurses, and the staff in the Laboratory.

I was taken to my assigned room by a pleasant nurse's aide, and then encountered friendly nurses and Candy Strippers eager to wait on you, gracious ladies who cleaned the room, and delicious food on an attractively arranged table.

The four-day plan for meals now being served at St. Elizabeth Hospital is a plan that I can recommend to 25 students, the student won't feel lost.

the American congressmen who vote the 'tax money, can no longer keep track of how the money is being spent and what it is being spent on. He no longer believes that the administration is telling him the truth. He is shocked by the revelation that you will find him spending the taxpayer's money for objectionable purposes.

"The taxpayer's money has even been used to 'condition' the taxpayer himself. We are witnesses to a struggle in America for the American people's soul, and this struggle is fateful for us all."

He does not say that the national malady is beyond cure, but he suggests increased attention to two matters that all can appreciate: watching—inflation and the tendency toward accumulation of governmental power.

New Apartment Projects Helping to End A Shortage Existing for Many Years

The beginning of construction of a new apartment development on Pontoon road recalls the time when such a proposal drew sharp opposition from those residing nearby.

This particular project is symbolic of several that encourage slacking when initially discussed, and its start is an indication that there has been at least a partial change in local thinking.

No one type of dwelling has all the advantages and none of the disadvantages of our latest type of apartment, but there is a place in every community for a wide variety of accommodations.

For many years, the Quad-Cities had an unusually high percentage of homes and a shortage of apartments that could be rented or leased. This imbalance now is well on the way to a full solution.

The Word Explosion

(Belle, Mo., Banner)

We wonder if the United States does not lead the world in speechmaking. By this we mean luncheon talks, after-dinner speeches, service club papers, women's club essays and, of course, the multitude of professional papers read by their authors (or supposed authors) at conferences, conventions and forums along with extemporaneous comments.

A recent random survey by a New York speech-writing service indicates that in New York alone there are 1,000 speeches daily. This means that roughly 16 million words are voiced publicly every 24 hours. And the trend is up.

No doubt about it, there has been a tremendous rise in speech output since the happy days of old when a person's oratorical talent was supposed to be saved for political addresses at county fairs and for the Fourth of July.

Can the flow of words be stemmed? Probably not. Since freedom of speech is a basic American right, we certainly would not recommend controls such as those that are placed on air pollutants. But we can hope that as the quantity of speech increases, standards will also rise.

A really thoughtful address can launch ideas which influence national or world events. Gen. George C. Marshall has given a traditional graduation address at Harvard University when he outlined his ideas for aid to Europe. But his words made history when the Marshall Plan speeded that aid to the state.

On a lower scale, a modest luncheon talk may launch a campaign for a new school or rouse a discouraged community. With appropriate "Working lunches," we can hope that the professionals left to their posts with fresh ideas.

Let the words fly, we say. But let them be the kind of words that lead to action.

What worries us is that the government is living not only beyond its own income but also beyond ours.

Historian's View of American Trends

Spotlights Growth of Our Government

Arnold Toynbee, the British historian, views trends with an eye to their long-range impact. His views of where America is headed, after having returned to Britain from the U. S., provide food for thought. The British historian at a group having noted so many past failures by mankind, may be overly pessimistic.

Toynbee sees the U. S. as a presently semi-socialist country in which the economic sector of the economy is gaining ground at the expense of the genuinely private sector.

He says, "The American taxpayer, and even

Dormitory Plan Can Keep the Human Element in Mammoth Universities

(Last of a series on the views of education by Dr. Lyle Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, interviewed by Paul M. Angle, a noted historian.)

Angle: Perhaps I can ask you and perhaps you will be willing to answer a final question. What is your opinion of the criticism voiced that large universities are becoming factories or education mills in which the student loses any kind of personal contact with professors?

Morris: I can't give you a simple, pat answer. There is really no reason why students should be lost in a large institution if we were smart enough to program the institution in such a way as to prevent it.

Farm Safety Week To Be Observed On July 23-29

President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed July 23-29 as National Farm Safety Week, President Raymond Christman of the Quad-City Safety Council has been advised.

The proclamation calls attention to farm safety for a period of one week and is intended to emphasize the importance of farm safety throughout the year. This year's theme is "Think and Act Safely."

Accidents of all types kill more than 8000 farm residents each year, and an additional 750,000 are injured. Nearly half of the farm resident accidental deaths are the result of traffic accidents.

Christman has made the following suggestions to farm residents to reduce rural traffic accidents:

Courtesy is a key to traffic safety. Always practice basic rules of safe driving and be sure to adjust your speed to road conditions.

Obey all traffic signs. Be especially alert at railroad crossings and unmarked rural intersections.

Use Seat Belts

Install and use seat belts. You are safer inside the car in an accident. The only time seat belts are uncomfortable is when you sit on them.

Be cautious when entering a public road from a farm driveway, field exit and any place where your sight distance, one or both ways, is limited.

Signal well ahead before turning left into farm entrance or onto a secondary road from the main highway. Let other drivers know what you intend to do.

Remove weeds, high crops, trees and shrubs at farm entrances and rural intersections to see and be seen while driving.

Slow-Moving Vehicles

Make sure that you have a red flag or approved flashing light on slow-moving vehicles before driving on a public highway.

When traffic begins to "pile up" behind your slow-moving vehicle, pull off onto the shoulder and let them by. Remember, courtesy prevents accidents.

Avoid using the public highway at night with slow-moving vehicles. If night operation is necessary, make sure your vehicle is properly lighted.

Caution Necessary in Handling of Fractures

The doorbell rings and your eighth-grade playmate tells you: "Come quick, Johnny just fell out of a tree."

Would you know what to do if a member of your family fell and suffered a possible fracture?

Bear in mind that you are not shipwrecked on an isolated island or camped in the wilderness away from civilization. Help is available and, after a single phone call, on the way.

Your job is not to repair the break. It is (1) to keep the patient comfortable and (2) prevent further injury.

Your son is lying there, perhaps with a broken bone, and you want to scoop him up and hug him—don't. He knows you love him. Now show him how level-headed you are. Cover him with a blanket.

There are two kinds of fractures—compound and closed. The skin and bone are broken in compound but only the bone is broken in a closed fracture.

Avoid Moving Patient
Unless the person is in the middle of a crowded street, don't move him until qualified persons (ambulance attendants) arrive. Call a doctor.

Take these steps if you suspect a compound fracture:
Control the bleeding by applying a clean cloth over the opening. Press hard with your hand. Tie a bandage or cloth strips firmly around the wound.

Be prepared to give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation if necessary. Apply splints (a strong piece of wood or smooth piece of metal) that extend beyond the joints below and above the fracture. Fasten the splints with bandages or cloth at three or four sites.

Keep the injured warm. Splints should be applied in the same manner for closed fractures. A fractured finger, hand, arm or foot should be placed in its natural position before applying splints if this is possible to do without hurting the person.

Follow the same procedure for a dislocation as for a closed fracture.

If the neck or spine is involved, DON'T move the person until the doctor arrives to direct the moving.

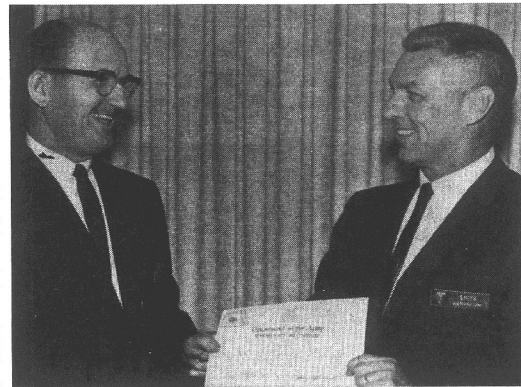

Air Pressure Vital
If the head is involved, gently turn the person on his side so the tongue or blood won't fall into the air passage. Keep the patient lying down.

If it is absolutely necessary to move the person for his own safety, keep his body in a straight line and support every portion of his body. Three or more persons are needed to lift the person to a stretcher.

In an emergency, you can make a stretcher by folding a sturdy blanket around two poles. Should the injured person have to be pulled from a car or train wreck, always pull in a straight line either feet or head first. Never tug any part of his body sideways.

Single State Warning
Supt. William H. Morris of the state police has notified law enforcement officials throughout Illinois that troopers will issue only one warning in the future before acting against gambling and vice. Since 1949, three warnings have been given to local-level authorities before the state intervened.

Fence Catches Fire
Madison firemen were called on Monday to extinguish a burning fence in the alley at 1865 Fourth street. Fire Chief E. J. Miller said there was only slight damage to the picket fence. Origin of the fire was unknown.

BACK FROM VIETNAM assignment, Carl N. Pashoff (left), 3113 Fehling road, is shown receiving a certificate and emblem acknowledging 10 years of federal service. Wayne R. Smith, director of technical data, Cataloging and Standardization, U. S. Army Aviation Material Command, St. Louis, makes the presentation.

GC Parcel Post Resuming 6-Day Schedule July 29

Postmaster W. T. Overbeck today announced that parcel post deliveries in Granite City will be expanded from five to six days a week as of July 29. The day to be added is Wednesday.

This is in line with a recent directive from Postmaster General Lawrence E. O'Brien following the signing of the Post Office Department appropriation bill by President Johnson. The legislation contains an $8.5 million item for restoration of the six-days-a-week delivery which had been cut back in May 1964 as an economy measure.

Nearly 5000 cities are affected, Postmaster Overbeck said.

The Granite City postal official noted that the improved service will remove an inequity for many business and residential routes.

Postal customers served by "motorized" letter carriers have been receiving six-day deliveries all along. They were not covered by the 1964 cutback inasmuch as carriers on vehicles can deliver parcels of any size.

Customers living on routes serviced by foot carriers have received larger parcels from a five-day a week parcel post route covered by a truck. Carriers on foot only deliver small packages.

GC Jaycees to Enter Kitten Ball Tournament

District Eight Jaycee groups will join forces Sunday, July 29, for the annual Jaycee "kitten ball" tournament, similar to softball, to be held this year at O'Fallon, Ill. A large delegation of Granite City Jaycees and their wives is expected to participate in the all-day event, which will include a family-style picnic.

Richard Dawdy, GC Jaycee project chairman, said today that local chapter members wishing to play in the tournament may register with him at TR 6-9176, or contact Jack Ritchie at 797-4137.

Team registration at the tournament site will begin at 9 a.m. July 30, with the games to get underway at 10 a.m., Dawdy said. Practice sessions are being scheduled for local Jaycees prior to tournament play, he added.

Sergeant Stripes for Crisler in Vietnam

Specialist-four George O. Crisler, 21, currently serving with the 335th Transportation Co., Task Force Oregon, at Chu Lai, Vietnam, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant, according to word received here by his wife, Mrs. Gayla (Jamerson) Crisler, 2127 Monroe street.

The son of Mrs. Laverne Crisler, 2628 Delmar avenue, Sgt. Crisler has been in Vietnam since Jan. 17. He expects to return home in November. A 1963 graduate of Granite City high school, the serviceman was employed at American Steel Foundries prior to entering the Army in November 1965.

Team registration at the tournament site will begin at 9 a.m. July 30, with the games to get underway at 10 a.m., Dawdy said. Practice sessions are being scheduled for local Jaycees prior to tournament play, he added.

State Being Featured in Magazine Articles

Articles—one of them a cover story—on Illinois' prominence in foreign trade, industry, research, education and other areas are featured in National Geographic and Challenge magazines, two widely-distributed publications.

Another story on the state's achievements, attractions and advantages is being prepared by Fortune magazine. It is due for publication in the magazine's January 1968 issue to coincide with the beginning of the state's sesquicentennial anniversary next year.

"Illinois—The City and the Plain" is the title of the 52-page lead article in the June issue of National Geographic, a magazine which circulates throughout the world to 5,500,000 subscribers.

The article portrays progress in Illinois by tracing the state's history and examining the present level of its economic and social activity.

It describes the state as "the United States in miniature" and quotes Gov. Otto Kerner as saying, "We are becoming the most international of the states."

Other highlights of the article tell of Illinois' position as the nation's leading export state, Chicago's industrial prominence and transportation excellence, and downstate Illinois' many points of interest and importance.

Representatives of the magazine presented Gov. Kerner a copy of the issue and enlargements of several of the 54 color photographs used with the story.

Challenge magazine's article pays tribute to the creativity in Illinois which has contributed significantly to the nation's aerospace and defense programs.

Challenge is a publication of General Electric Company's Missile and Space Division.

Individual persons, research organizations are mentioned and educational institutions are mentioned for specific accomplishments or contributions.

A penny buys more electricity for the average Illinois Power Company customer today than it did five years ago because we've continued to lower rates. We reduced rates again in June, the fourth reduction in five years.
A penny buys less of just about everything else today because its purchasing power is shrunk by rising prices.
Illinois Power, like you, has to cope with increasing prices on almost everything we buy. But by investing in modern, more efficient equipment... and by serving a growing volume of customers, we've been able to make electric rates lower and lower through the years.

4-H Delegate to State Fair; Many Receive County Awards

Miss Kathy Carroll, a member of the 58'er 4-H club under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Bravé, has been chosen to attend the Illinois state fair in the clothing and cooking divisions in Springfield, Aug. 11-14.

She was judged July 14, at the Madison County Achievement Day held at St. Mary's Catholic school in Edwardsville in the clothing division, being chosen for a dress she had made and modeled. The dress was made of white pout material, dacro and cotton designed with a modified A-line, featuring elbow-bell sleeves with a scooped round neckline. Curved front darts emphasized the fitting style.

As her only accessory, Miss Carroll wore a square-cut black oxford "spider pin" which matched her beaded bag of the same tones and black patent shoes.

Miss Carroll was chosen as a top demonstrator for Madison county in the food division July 10 at county judging held at the Farm Bureau building in Edwardsville.

Bakes Crescent Rolls

She received an A rating and a blue ribbon with her entry of crescent rolls, which she mixed, kneaded, baked and displayed for the judging.

Due to the conflict of time in scheduling the demonstrations at the state fair, Miss Carroll has chosen to demonstrate her rolls as she cannot participate in both events.

She has also received an A rating and blue ribbon for her completed baby sitting book and for yeast bread entered at the same achievement day. Last year, she was an alternate to the state fair in the clothing division.

Four-H clubs are sponsored by Homemaking units, and the 58'ers are sponsored by the Trio Unit of Granite City. Miss Carroll, 16, has been a member of the club for five years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carroll, 2534 Spalding avenue, and will begin her junior year at Granite City high school in September.

The 4-H clubs encourage young girls in competition and judging for specific projects as an incentive to better themselves as future homemakers.

Among the many activities offered by the clubs are clothing, cooking, baking, floral arranging, knitting, floral gardening, baby sitting, textile painting, photography and many other areas. The beginning age for girls to join a club is nine.

Achievement Day Results

Two local 4-H clubs attended the County Achievement Day last week. The judges were home advisors from other counties with the exception of the beginning skirts category, which was judged by junior leaders.

Members of the 58'ers who won blue ribbons in the "ABC of Foods" with a lazy daisy cake were Christine Lombardi, Brenda Wardlaw, Susan Hamilton and Christine Bunselmeyer. Receiving red ribbons or "B" were Linda McDonald, Mary Ellen Tolan, Cheryl Gertsch and Donna Robertson.

"You learn to Bake" project winners with oatmeal cookies that earned an A and a blue ribbon were Susan Mobley, Susan Petrovich, Carol Roberts, Patty Bade, Mari Ann Yevin, Debbie Williams, Karen Joy, Patty Scaturro and Mary Mueller. Receiving red ribbons or a B were Elaine Riedle and Mary Sturdivant.

In the "Milk and Eggs" project, with three popovers, was Sandy Freeman with a B rating and red ribbon.

"Meats in Your Meals," using fried chicken, won a blue ribbon for Diane Kinney and Christine Bravé and a B or red ribbon for Gail Forshee. Other results: "Yeast Breads," a B, to Gail Forshee; A to Kathy Carroll; B to Mary Uram and Susan Wallace. "Baby Sitting," exhibiting a completed record book showing a folder on care of a child and toys to be used according to age, A to Kathy Carroll.

"Five Year Room Plan," 12 x 12-foot floor plan, B rating to Mary Uram.

"Beginning Knitting," using one item for display, A to Cheryl Gertsch, Nancy Hamilton, and Susan Mobley; B to Margaret Sturdivant and Janice Mueller. "Intermediate Knitting," an article made with a pattern, A to Gail Forshee and Mari Ann Yevin.

Sewing Awards
"Advanced Knitting," A to Donna Kinney.

In judging of sewing, 58'ers receiving awards for a beginning skirt were A rating, Linda McDonald; Betty Bade, Cheryl Gertsch and Donna Robertson; B rating, Susan Walsh.

"Make Your Own Clothes," A to Mary Uram, Kathy Carroll and Nancy Ehler; B to Margaret Sturdivant, Mary Ann Miller and Nancy Hamilton.

Those who will model their clothes at the County Fair in Highland July 25-29 will include Linda McDonald, Patty Bade, Donna Robertson, Kathy Carroll and Mary Uram.

Mothers who attended the judging with Mrs. Ruth Bravé, one of the 58'ers, were Mrs. Robert Carroll, Mrs. Raymond Uram, Mrs. Ann Bade and Mrs. Donald Bunselmeyer.

Judging and grading for flower gardening, textile painting and photography will be done at the county fair July 24.

Mothers Spinning Club
Members of the Granite City Moon Spinners 4-H club who attended the achievement day and received awards were: food exhibits, A to Mary Ellen Barth, Helen Gyarmati, Lauren Reznack, Cynthia Schiber, Patty Davis, Janet Fechner, Mary Ann Kozio, Mary Diane Kozio, Jeanie Schwarzkopf, Ann DeRuntz, Maribeth Henry, Lauri Morris and Susan Denno; B to Annette Favier, Florence Halton, Lisa Novosel, Judy Carroll, Kathy Thompson and Tammy Duff.

KATHY CARROLL, 16, a Granite City high school junior, who will represent Madison county 4-H members in cooking and clothing competition at the Illinois state fair Aug. 11-14. She made the dress she is wearing in this picture. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Carroll, 2534 Spalding avenue.

Blue ribbon winners in clothing exhibits were Cynthia Schiber, Janet Fechner, Helen Gyarmati and Sharon Busch.

Don't Let Entamoeba Histolytica Adopt You

These parasite amoebae are a primitive form of animal life which reproduce by just dividing in half. One can soon become millions. They are the cause of amoebiasis, generally known as Amebic dysentery. They are swallowed with food and drink, and burrow into the large intestine.

Beginning symptoms are not too troublesome. But, after they accumulate, they travel to the liver, heart, lungs and brain and a small percentage of cases are fatal. Symptoms are confused with those of appendicitis, colitis, peptic ulcer, intestinal cancer and others. Your physician can cure Amoebiasis. Entry in about 95% of cases and control the rest if treatment is not too delayed.

Catholic Center Being Constructed at Normal

Construction is to begin immediately on a new $150,000 student center and chapel for Roman Catholic students at Illinois State University, Normal.

The St. Bellarmine Catholic Student Center, built with funds from a pledge campaign, will be located on a two-acre site owned by the Catholic diocese of Peoria at 501 South Main street, Normal.

Seabee Petty Officer Ranks Being Offered

U. S. Navy officials announced today the reactivation of the direct procurement of petty officers program in the "Seabees."

In a brief comment, the Navy announced that 1967 marks the 25th year of continued operation of their Construction Battalion program.

And once again the Navy Department is recognizing the important role the American building trades play in the defense of our nation. Now, a civilian under 40 who has earned his living within the past three years in one of the building trades can join the Navy for a 30-month tour of duty in the "Seabees."

He receives immediate advancement to Petty Officer status in recognition of the experience he brings with him into the service.

The 30-month tour consists of one month of basic naval and construction orientation at Gulfport, Miss., and the remainder of the enlistment with one of the Navy's proud "Seabee" units.

This program, said a naval spokesman, provides an excellent opportunity for those who have their talents in the building trade not fulfilled their basic military obligation and who want to see pay off... for both themselves and the Navy.

There've been some changes made

There was a time when our telephone operators wore "floor auster" dresses and sat on high wooden stools. Not so today.

New equipment and new work techniques have revolutionized the familiar "switchboard" scene. And the operating room of the future incorporates the most dramatic and far-reaching changes ever. In these new rooms, there are no plugs, cords or jacks. Instead of being lined up along a multi-position switchboard, operators sit at desk-like consoles widely spaced through the room. Everything is bright and modern. Already operational in a few Southwestern Bell cities, these newest operating rooms represent more than a change in looks. The new consoles make many new services possible. Customers can dial person-to-person, credit card and collect Long Distance calls. Service is faster and more efficient.

More and more of these new consoles will be installed as time goes by. But despite the changes in equipment and techniques, one thing will remain the same. Our operators will still be dedicated to giving the best possible service to our customers. The "voice with a smile" is as important and meaningful as ever. Some things just don't need changing.

Foremeling Coordinator For State Anniversary

The Illinois Savings and Loan League, in cooperation with the Illinois Sesquicentennial Commission, has created a sesquicentennial committee to operate from now through 1968 while Illinois is celebrating 150 years as a state. League President Gilliland of Flora has appointed A. H. Foremeling, president of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan, Granite City, to coordinate the work of savings and loan associations in Madison county and to cooperate with the County Sesquicentennial Commission.

The kickoff in the program will be sale of medallions. There will be two medallions, a limited issue of silver to be sold for $7.50 and a bronze nickel sold at $1. The medallion will contain the great Seal of Illinois on one side; and on the reverse, it depicts the progress of the first state of the union through 150 years—from oxen to jet planes to the space age.

R. L. Hanks Named to Special Education Post

Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced the appointment of Reginald L. Hanks, Palatine, as assistant director of special education projects for the state office. He will be in charge of projects pertaining to the area of handicapped children as authorized under Title Six of the U. S. Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Prior to accepting his present position, Hanks was a social worker on the staffs of Arlington Heights and Niles township high schools. He also was formerly a federal parole officer in the East St. Louis district. He holds a bachelor and master degrees of social work from Washington University, St. Louis. A native of Wood River, where he attended elementary and secondary schools, he is married and the father of three children.

SIU-SW to Hold Course On Planning, Zoning

The ever-increasing responsibilities of planning and zoning officials will be examined this fall in a course at Southern Illinois University's Southwest campus.

Sponsored by SIU's Social Sciences Division, the 10-session program will concentrate on the roles of these officials, the problems they face in a rapidly urbanizing society and the technical aspects of their office.

Scheduled Oct. 3, 1967, through Feb. 20, 1968, classes will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Peck Building on specified dates. Instruction will be given by SIU faculty and local area planning and zoning officials.

Among the community consultants are Theodore Mikessell, executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission; Eugene Moody, executive secretary, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council; and Alton May, past chairman and a member of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

SIU's Norman Johnson, project coordinator, said the training will be open to about 25 officials from Monroe, St. Clair and Madison counties. Each participant will receive a library of reference material at the close of the training for use in his community.

Further information can be obtained from Carl Lessau, assistant professor of social sciences at SIU-SW, 692-3342, or Johnson at 692-2440. The schooling is supported by Title I of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

Firemen responded to eight minor fires in Granite City Monday and Tuesday.

A wheat field was burning at 3200 Maryville road at 4:25 p.m. Monday, but there was no damage. A battery caused a fire in the auto of Charles Brewer, 2629 Delmar avenue, at 4:45 p.m., there was no loss.

A weed fire was reported at 7:10 p.m. Monday at the end of Terminal avenue, without damage, and rubbish burned in the alley at 23rd street and Washington avenue at 11:20 p.m. and in an ash pit at 8200 Grand avenue at 8:25 p.m.

Scaffolding caught fire on the roof of the Nestle Co. instant coffee plant, 21st and Adams streets at 5:50 p.m. Monday, with the loss described as small. Firemen were on the scene 40 minutes.

Short-circuits in wiring caused $150 damage to the auto of Donald Cook, 3070 Grand avenue, at 1910 Delmar avenue, at 10 a.m. Tuesday and $50 damage to the auto of Bill Jackson, 514 Bend road at 2131 Washington avenue at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Teachers Studying Pupil Learning Problems

The distance between two points is a straight line.

But some cannot draw a straight line.

Many children—the slow-learning, the organically damaged—must work for weeks to finally master a simple command.

The Achievement Center for Children, Department of Education, at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind., exists to help these people.

A group of 25 students participating in the MacMurray College (Jacksonville, Ill.) Summer School Learning Disorders Workshop has visited the Purdue center to observe firsthand the techniques of the Kephart Method for teaching the slow learner.

They are under the direction of Miss Dollah Newell, Miss Anita Hernandez and Dr. Vernon Schaefer.

Mrs. Maxton Participates
Included in the group were Mrs. Ila R. Maxton, 30 Oaklawn drive, a teacher of home-bound pupils in the Granite City school district.

The Achievement Center's aim is to assimilate information from interviews, tests and observations of behavior. Psychological tests administered include measures of intellectual ability and diagnostic measures of motor adequacy, sensorymotor development and perceptual organization.

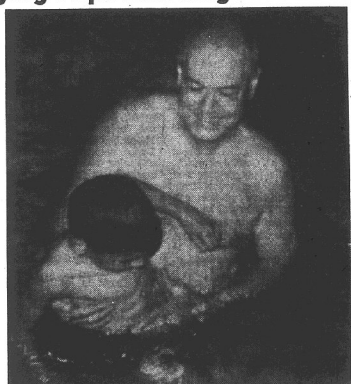

The training method used at the Special Education Center stresses the learning of skills at the child's most basic level of development. The students observe training and teaching activities in the pre-school program, the motor laboratory and pool, and the area experiment using Harvard readers.

Dr. N. C. Kephart, executive director, a professor of psychology and education at Purdue, directed one class in the swimming pool and answered questions. The author of several books he is concerned with the education and evaluation of children with learning difficulties.

Advanced Techniques
A three to five-day session, the clinic program of the Achievement Center combines the most advanced techniques of training and evaluation with an education program for the parents. The needs of both child and parent determine the length of the stay. Parent education is an integral part of Purdue's program.

The program's purpose is to (1) train and evaluate children having learning problems, (2) help parents of these children to better understand their difficulties and (3) provide parents with training programs which can be carried on with the child in his own home and community.

Generally the children's ages vary from four to 12, although exceptions are made. Children 15 or above are not accepted. The Achievement Center deals with problems of emotional disturbances only when these are the outgrowth of the achievement of a learning problem. There are no restrictions with respect to over-all intellectual ability.

Nationally Known
Presently there are 265 active cases who are non-residents. Approximately two children are diagnosed each week. Since this school is known across the nation, there is a four to six-month waiting list.

An initial evaluation fee is necessary. There is no fee, however, for the local children at the Achievement Center during the semester.

The pre-school program at the development level emphasizes special relationships, size consistency and form differentiation. Eye-hand coordination, measur-

Army Depot Week to Be Observed Starting July 24 as Base Observes 25th Anniversary

The week of July 24-31 has been designated by Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer, as Granite City Army Depot Week in celebration of the Depot's 25th anniversary.

A special 25th anniversary program will be held at the Depot on Tuesday, Aug. 1, with a number of activities open to the general public.

Visitors from all over the country are expected as the Quad-Cities' second largest industry celebrates its birthday.

The celebration will be one of the largest single events ever staged by Depot personnel. There will be a parade on Aug. 1, sponsored by the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, beginning originally known as the Granite City Engineer Depot, was activated on Aug. 1, 1942.

ceding through Madison and Granite City and to the Depot.

The parade will move along Broadway and Madison avenue to St. Elizabeth Hospital and then swing west on Niedringhaus avenue to the depot.

Displays and exhibits of Depot equipment, a Gemini capsule, the missiles, helicopter fly-over and demonstration, bus tours, train tours, a military review and award presentations will be seen.

Ralph Smith to Speak Illinois Speaker of the House

Ralph T. Smith is scheduled to deliver the principal address at the award presentation ceremony on the afternoon of Aug. 1. The Granite City Army Depot, 23 miles of paved roads, with 29 miles of railroads, with

Youth Charged With Theft After Burglary

Edward E. Elliot, 17, of the YMCA, was arrested Tuesday morning on a charge of petty theft in connection with a burglary July 7 at the Louis Rodgers residence, 2333 Washington avenue.

Stolen were a nine-inch-screen television set, clock, radio, magazines and food. He is to appear in magistrate's court for a hearing on Friday.

Many Changes Enacted In Boating Regulations

William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, has noted that the General Assembly has enacted many changes in the state boat law with regard to boating equipment and operation.

A U. S. Coast Guard-approved lifesaving device is now required for each person on board all watercraft in Illinois. Previously, the law required that an approved lifesaving device be carried by boats propelled by machinery. Now vessels or craft of any kind used for water transportation must carry approved lifesaving devices.

All sealed compartments on watercraft burning gasoline for fuel must be ventilated. At least one intake duct must extend from outside the craft to midway into the bilge or sealed compartment. One exhaust duct must extend from the lowest part of the bilge or compartment to the outside.

All ducts must be at least two inches in diameter and they must be fitted with cowls. The intake cowl must face forward and the exhaust cowl must face aft.

No one under 12 years of age may operate a boat with a motor of 10 horsepower or more unless he is directly supervised by a qualified person 16 years old or older.

Large boats operating in confined channels now have the right-of-way over smaller craft.

Even Mild Sore Throat Can Bring Rheumatic Fever

"Red" signals danger—and the redness of your child's sore throat is one danger signal that should never be ignored.

Sore throat—even a mild one can harbor the deadly strep (for streptococcus) germ that causes rheumatic fever, the most deadly heartcripper and child-killer of all contagious diseases.

Strep germs in a sore throat are also the culprits in many serious ear infections, kidney infections and a common type of pneumonia.

There are two important reasons why you should contact a doctor at the first sign of sore throat in your children:

1. Only he can determine if the sore throat is caused by the deadly form of strep germ that leads to rheumatic fever. Some types of strep, while able to induce sore throat and other symptoms of illness, are relatively harmless. It is the type medically termed "Group A Beta hemolytic streptococcus" that is deadly.

After preparing a culture from a throat swab, a doctor can easily identify the deadly form of strep under the microscope, where it looks like tiny clusters of ball-shaped bacteria, arranged in chains like a string of beads.

2. Only a doctor can prescribe the medication that will knock out strep throat before it leads to further trouble. Home-made and commercial remedies, including the so-called "antiseptic mouthwashes," have little effect on strep throat. Only penicillin and other antibiotics are effective against the strep germ.

Strep is also highly contagious and can spread from one person to the entire family in a matter of hours. For this reason, if strep is detected, your doctor may wish to prescribe antibiotics for the entire family as a protective measure.

Most important, remember that strep is not only deadly, it's sneaky.

Contrary to popular belief, your child doesn't have to complain of a terribly painful, raw throat, with accompanying chills and fever, to have strep throat. Even

Fabrics Affect Sewing Techniques Greatly

An accelerated course on "Your Sewing Machine" prepared exclusively for volunteer adult and junior 4-H leaders copes with the handling and sewing of the various man-made fibers and the natural fibers as well.

In the 12 years that the course has been offered, in excess of 75,000 women have learned about correct use and care of the sewing machine. They in turn have instructed nearly one-half million 4-H girls engaged in clothing, home improvement, child care and other projects where machine sewing is involved.

Value of the course is demonstrated in the need for being able to sew on some 20 man-made fibers, plus innumerable blends, found on yard goods counters today. New methods and sewing equipment have been developed to work with modern materials. Care of the sewing machine is also taught.

Miss Jessie Hutton, co-author of the 4-H leaders' manual, "Your Sewing Machine," used in the course, points out some of the techniques for handling new materials.

For example, stretch fabrics, filmy sheers, knits, tricot and crepes need to be guided both in front and behind the machine pressure foot. For stretch fabrics, firm tension is applied, but for sheers, knits and tricot, gentle tension is needed.

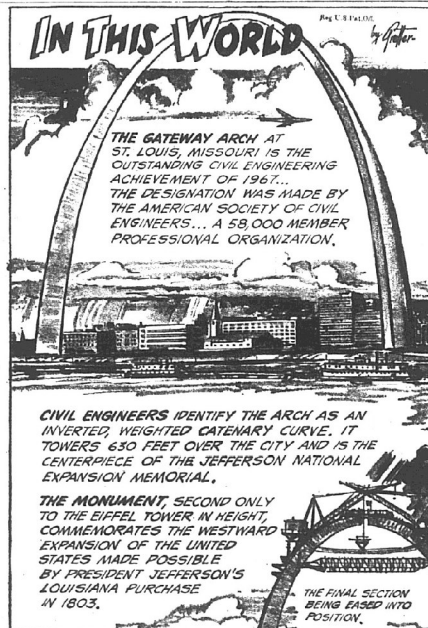

Old standbys such as napped wool, corduroy, velveteen and velvet must be stitched in the direction of the pile or nap.

Knowing the right needle and thread and tension to use can make the difference between sewing smooth seams and puckered or broken thread seams.

For information about the course, contact the County Extension office. The only requirement is that the person be an adult or junior 4-H leader. All participants get a set of sewing guide books.

the mildest throat redness can signal danger.

Obeys that signal by contacting professional help at once . . . it's the only certain way to protect your child from the ravages of rheumatic fever, and other deadly diseases the strep germ can cause.

Minimize Oven Cleaning

By Mrs. Catherine Mauck
Madison County Home Advisor

Vapor and grease deposits on your oven lining are much easier to remove if you clean them off frequently. But the best way to keep your oven clean is to prevent spatters.

For example, minimize spatters when roasting meat by using moderate temperatures. You'll want to use moderate (300 to 350 degrees) temperatures anyway, to retain the meat juices and nutrients.

If you use foil to catch spatters, place it on the rack below the pan. Foil on the oven floor might inhibit heat circulation. However, some manufacturers are now calibrating ovens to allow for specially-made foil liners.

You don't need to pre-heat the broiler grid and pan when broiling meats or fish on it.

Water placed in the pan below the grid will catch drips and prevent spattering, but it will also dilute the juices. After your food is broiled, remove the broiler pan from the hot oven and put it in to soak to make dishwashing easier.

Acids in milk, lemons, tomatoes and other foods may harm the finish on your range. Wipe them up as soon as range cools.

You can easily remove cooked-on substances on range burner pans with an oven cleaner. But most manufacturers recommend that you let the unit rings burn spilled foods off, instead of using a cleaning agent on them.

Baked-on Spills

Even the best oven cleaner can't easily remove spills that have been neglected and allowed to bake on, fusing themselves to the oven lining.

To keep oven maintenance at a minimum, keep an oven cleaner handy for spot treatment immediately after the oven cools.

Read the directions on the commercially prepared oven cleaners before you buy them. Buy the one designed for the type of oven liner you have.

Because some cleaners are dangerous around heat and flames, either avoid using them with gas ranges, or turn the pilot light off while you clean the stove. Coarse abrasives will scratch the lining surface of your oven.

Some of the manufacturers' developments to simplify oven cleaning are pull-out ovens, pull-out panels on all sides, disposable foil liners, silicone sprays applied after cleaning, Teflon linings, and ovens that burn themselves clean.

Care of Electric Blankets

Before you store your electric blanket for the summer, be sure it's clean.

All manufacturers agree that washing is the only safe way to keep electric bedding clean. In fact, frequent laundering is recommended so that soil does not become embedded in the fibers.

When automatic blankets were first introduced, the idea of washing was not easy to accept. But women gradually lost their timidity about putting anything electrical into the suds. If you are about to launder your first electric blanket, follow these simple rules:

First, disconnect the control and shake the blanket gently to remove dust. Second, pretreat heavily soiled bindings and stains with a heavy-duty liquid detergent.

Next, soak the blanket in warm suds (105 to 120 degrees F.) for about five to 10 minutes. Then drain the washer and refill with clean water, using an adequate amount of soap or detergent. Follow the recommendations that are printed on the detergent package to determine the correct amount for your washer type.

Wash the blanket one to three minutes, using gentle machine agitation. Rinsewater temperature need be only moderately warm (105 degrees F.) A short spin cycle will remove most of the water, and any remaining moisture can be gently pressed out by hand.

Never put an electric blanket through a wringer.

For hand-washing, use the bathtub, which is large enough to immerse even a double blanket without crowding. Observe the same rules as to water temperature. Instead of rubbing, use a plumber's plunger to pull the suds through the fabric. This loosens the soil and eliminates lifting and squeezing the blanket.

Manufacturers recommend draping an electric blanket over two parallel lines to dry, straightening the edges and corners.
